"I'm proud that my career allows me to be a full-time member of my family."

"You see, I want my family to respect my business life, but I also want my bread-winning to allow me the necessary time to be a full-time member of my family! I've been a Mass Mutual policyholder since the age of 10 — and I knew when I was a college sophomore that I would make a career in life insurance. There aren't many men who can say that! It was following the advice of my father and the dean of the College of Commerce at Bradley University that I chose Mass Mutual as the company I'd represent. And I'd do it all over again if I had the chance.

"It's a matter of real pride for me to be just as professional with my clients as any physician or attorney. After diagnosing their needs, my 'prescriptions' go to Mass Mutual. There the Underwriting and Benefit departments are wonderfully flexible in producing the combinations of features that enable me to solve each client's problems to his best interest.

"And I've been able to continue, ever since college, the personal pleasure of being Field House Announcer for Bradley basketball games. Also important to me has been serving on the Peoria Park District Board of Trustees. I couldn't have participated with good conscience in these or my other activities if my business had required travel or keeping hours dictated by someone else. I guess I've been my own severest timekeeper."

Bob Leu has been one of the top 100 Mass Mutual agents for 19 of the past 21 years. He is now servicing some $20 million of life insurance. He has been a member of the Million Dollar Round Table every year since 1954 and is in Mass Mutual's select Inner Circle made up of those who have sold $2 million or more in a year. Bob Leu is just one of the highly skilled Mass Mutual professionals throughout the country.

If you're looking for the same kinds of satisfaction — professionalism in your career, substantial income together with the opportunity to enjoy your family and participate in your community — write a personal letter to Charles H. Schaff, President, Massachusetts Mutual Life Ins. Co., Springfield, Mass. He is always interested in hearing from a good man.

OUR COVER

Fall at the Heights; crisp
autumn days, colorful folliage mark the beginning of another college year.

Chairman Joseph Flanagan, S.J. offers student copy of new brochure describing philosophy program. Testimony of the popularity of philosophy in the past few years shows in the fact that more than 500 undergraduates are studying some of the new philosophy electives in addition to the required programs. Serious professional interest in philosophical studies is evidenced by a dramatic increase in the number of students selecting philosophy as a major field of study.

PHILOSOPHY ADVANCING IN STRENGTH AND EXCELLENCE

PHILOSOPHY, like all other academic disciplines at Boston College has been steadily engaged in upgrading its curriculum and faculty during recent years. One significant milestone marking this growth was reached this past year with the opening of a graduate program leading to a Doctoral degree in philosophical studies. Special opportunities will be available for concentration in Philosophy of Religion, Russian Philosophy and the Philosophy of Science under present course offerings.

The following student assessment, which appeared as a recent editorial in the undergraduate publication, "The Heights", gives succinct description of the current undergraduate program:

"Kudos are due the Theology and Philosophy Departments for their announcement this week of extensive and extra-curricular innovations. Although these changes originated principally in the decrees of Vatican II and the recommendations of the recent Self-Study in A&S, most of the credit must be given to the vigorous and optimistic leadership of the new chairmen in each of these departments. Fr. William J. Leonard, S.J., of the Theology Dept. and Fr. Joseph Flanagan, S.J., of the Philosophy Dept. have been in command for only a few months, however, they have, through collaboration and cooperation with other members of their departments, initiated needed reform and significant renewal in their respective disciplines."

"The long-awaited emergence of Pope John XXIII's spirit of 'aggiornamento' at Boston College is strongly evidenced in the changes announced this week for seniors in A&S and Education by the Theology Department. The expansion of course offerings from one required course to fourteen electives and the content of these courses indicates the department's desire to provide the Church with informed, concerned laymen who will serve as witnesses of the Christian message in the modern world. Concomitant with this goal is the institution of a lecture series featuring eminent contemporary theologians, an annual theologian-in-residence, and the introduction of inter-disciplinary studies.

"The theological response to Vatican II is matched by the Philosophy Department's response to the recent Self-Study conducted in the College of Arts and Sciences. The proliferation of electives ranging from Analytic Philosophy to Zen Buddhism enables the student to select from sixty-four courses over a two-year period and the initiation of a doctoral program should strengthen and enlarge even further this elective spectrum.

"Certainly in heralding these changes emphasis must be placed on the decisive and rapid action taken by the new department chairmen. Their tenure has been brief but their results thus far have been impressive. We hope that these recent innovations are indicative of a continuing policy of 'updating' and renewal."

STUDENTS and FACULTY APPLAUD PHILOSOPHY GROWTH

Philosophy Dept. To Expand

Allow 64 Electives.

A greatly expanded program of philosophy electives was released this week by Rev. Joseph Flanagan, Chairman of the Boston College Philosophy Department.

Students in all the undergraduate schools will be affected by the changes outlined. Some will be in effect as early as next semester.

Most significant of the changes will be an expanded program of courses which will be available to satisfy the senior philosophy requirement and may also be taken by all students as free electives.

Beginning next year students will be able to choose from a total of thirty-two different courses ranging from Analytic Philosophy to Zen Buddhism. Thus, over a two-year cycle, students will have the opportunity to select from a total of sixty-four different courses.

In explaining the expansion of the elective program, Father Flanagan observed that in the last few years, "the number of students seeking electives in philosophy has been constantly increasing."

"In working out the d recently completed Seable guide lines."

Two experimental program number of students beginning February.

One course, Social Sciences at the Value Crisis, will be conducted by a two-man team, one from the Institute of Human Sciences and one from the Philosophy Department.

The other course, Ethics and the Secular City, will be taught by Father Thomas Garret by the newly established Cambridge Center for Social Studies. Father Garret is the author of a number of books among which are: "Ethics and Business," "Television and Popular Culture," "Ethical Problems of Modern American Advertising."

Begin PhD Studies

In disclosing the expansion of elective courses to be offered by the Philosophy Department Rev. Joseph Flanagan, S.J., also revealed that a doctoral program in philosophy has been initiated and that there has been a significant increase in the Department's activities this year.

"Although the institution of a doctoral program is not of immediate concern to the undergraduate students," Fr. Flanagan explained, "it is obvious that it will mean a significant strengthening of the philosophy course at the graduate level."

"For example," he continued, "students have already commended favorably on the fact that the recent philosophy and science conference was opened to undergraduate students. Similar opportunities will become available once the doctorate program is underway. Students can expect to benefit by visiting scholars, lecture series and cross-disciplinary seminars."

With this addition the University will now offer doctorates in seven different fields. In discussing the Department's

Faculty Shows Optimism Over Philosophy-Theology Changes

The enthusiasm of both the Theology and Philosophy Department's in announcing their change-over was matched with an equally enthusiastic response from many departmental chairmen. They reflect a genuine optimism while former term in felt "They reflect a genuine optimism while former term in the new expansion of electives in our department chairman, Dr. Robert J. Alumni visiting the campus find Fr. John McCarthy, S.J., busy with research in current philosophical development.

Prof. Donald Gallagher puts the final touches to his latest book on American philosophy. Dr. Gallagher, a leading expert on the thought of Jacques Maritain, has already published a number of scholarly philosophical works.

Former Chairman Fr. Frederick Adelmann, S.J., editor of the "Boston College Philosophical Studies", discusses Vol. 1 of the series with Prof. Thomas Blakeley who has just returned from a two year research project sponsored by the Littauer Foundation. Prof. Blakeley, a leading Sovietologist, has authored five books on Russian philosophy.

Prof. Norman Wells, one of the most popular "philosophers", combines scholarly research in late Medieval philosophy with a witty Socratic classroom technique.

Fr. Richard Murphy, S.J. enlivens lectures on traditional Philosophy of Man with fascinating excursions into contemporary phenomenology and existentialism.

A special Doctoral program in the Philosophy of Religion will draw on the talents of two new faculty members—Prof. David Rasmussen from the University of Chicago (working in the area of the phenomenology of religion) and Fr. Theo Stammen, O.F.M., from Harvard (specializing in the sociology of religion).

Student seminars with Prof. Thomas Owens probe deeply into major issues in contemporary philosophy. Senior students are expected to do much personal research for seminar presentation and critique.

Prof. Joseph Navickas, fluent in five languages, is currently researching the philosophical roots of Marxism as found in the nineteenth century German Idealism.

Hundreds of paperback titles in the college Bookstore's new Philosophy section will assist students in their personal and professional search for wisdom.

Program In RUSSIAN PHILOSOPHICAL STUDIES

The Philosophy Department at Boston College has recently expanded its course offerings in Russian philosophy. In addition to the M.A. in Russian Philosophy, Boston College now conducts an intensive summer program in Russian philosophy.

Courses include the following:

- Introductory Sovietology
- Eighteenth-Century Russian Philosophy
- Development of Dialectic from Hegel and Marx
- Contemporary Russian Philosophy
- Contemporary Sovietology
- Advanced Sovietology
- Philosophy of History: A Marxist-Leninist View
- Concepts of Alienation in Hegel and Marx
- Twentieth-Century Heidegger
- Philosophical Themes in Russian Literature
- Philosophical Themes in Modern Marxism

The Director of the program is Russian Philosophical Scholar Dr. Prof. Thomas Blakeley, now director of the Center for Soviet Thought and author of the following recent books: Soviet Theory of Knowledge, Soviet Ideology, and Soviet Philosophy. A General Introduction to Contemporary Soviet Philosophy.

Funding assistance will be available in the following areas:

- N. S. / A. Fellowships
- University Fellowships
- Graduate Scholarships

For further information, write to Chairman, Philosophy Department, Boston College, Chestnut Hill, Massachusetts 02143.

Part of the enlarged graduate program is evidenced in the current schedule of courses offered in Russian philosophy. Prof. Thomas Blakeley, internationally known Sovietologist will direct the program.

THE NEW LOOK

When Wally Boudreau came to the Alumni Association ten years ago the Alumni numbered approximately 20,000. Now we carry over 35,000 on our lists. In 1957 the Alumni Secretary did everything connected with the Association—publish the magazine, fund, clubs, activities, alumni hall, records, and endless services to the Alumni and the University. As the University has grown in strength and diversity so has the Alumni Association. Many more people have been employed to keep pace with the growth and excellence of Boston College, not only within the University but also, in the Alumni Association.

WALLY C. BOUDREAU, '43

The Placement Bureau must also keep pace with changes—so Wally moves over to give George Donaldson and his staff a hand in providing a service to our alumni. Wally's work will be primarily in Alumni Placement. Generally speaking Alumni Placement is for those with some work experience—five years or more. Much planning and consideration has been given to this matter of Alumni Placement and from the beginning one conclusion was obvious:—everyone is for it.

Through the great energy and dedication of George Donaldson and his staff, this advanced placement has been carried on but the increase in numbers of Alumni, the diversity of their occupation and the tremendous change in the business world has made necessary the availability of more manpower.

Wally looks forward to his new position with great enthusiasm. Although the announcement of his appointment to this new position was made in June he has continued to direct the Association work, but come October when his replacement, John Wissler arrives, Wally will begin contacting management and personnel people in the local area as well as nationally. In fact, he will begin by attending meetings of personnel people during the first four days of October.

To quote him "We want to provide the most complete and professional help to our people, both employer and employee. Our growth in all areas has been qualitative as well as quantitative. This program will be consistent with this policy."

The officers and directors of the Boston College Alumni Association take pleasure in announcing the appointment of John F. Wissler, '57 CBA as Executive Director of the Association. Mr. Wissler, who will assume his new duties in October, replaces Wally Boudreau, who has been named Assistant Director of Placement for Alumni. Wissler, a native of Long Island, N.Y., is a former President of the Boston College Club of Long Island and had been recently associated with the Minnesota Mining & Manufacturing Co. in New Jersey. An Army veteran, Mr. Wissler majored in Marketing and was Varsity football manager in his senior year, a member of the Cross and Crown and the Gold Key Society.

JOHN F. WISSLER, '57 CBA

Easter in Rome

The Boston College Alumni Association is happy to announce plans for a ten-day tour to Italy during the height of the Spring season. One of the highlights of the tour will be a week in Rome where we are anticipating a Papal audience.

Present plans call for the trip to depart from Boston on Holy Thursday, April 11th and due to return on Sunday, April 21st. It is our hope that many alumni and alumnae will plan to join in what promises to be a delightful holiday.

The tour is open to all alumni and all departments of the University. Full details will be forthcoming in the very near future.

EAGLES IN THE CITY

"The Boston College Downtown Club is a milestone in the history of Boston College," declared Very Reverend Michael P. Walsh, S.J., President of Boston College, at the Founders Dinner in April, where over 600 alumni assembled at the Sheraton Plaza Hotel and vowed "it can be done."

After viewing the plans, he predicted a renewed consolidation of the University and the Boston College community in the downtown area. He continued, "It behoves us to take a keen interest in our environment and a deeper involvement in the City of Boston—a keen interest in and commitment to the welfare of different elements in the city.

The Boston College Downtown Club will provide the opportunity to bring us closer to each other and with those things in the community with which we must concern ourselves. Right from the start the Boston College Downtown Club has had my wholehearted support."

The Boston College Downtown Club became a reality at the Founders Dinner. About 600 alumni acquired a $35 charter membership and 30 alumni, from as far back as the Class of 1929 and as recent as the Class of 1965, each gave a major boost with $1,000 life memberships.

On the same occasion Reverend W. Seavey Joyce, S.J., Vice President of Boston College, focused on the most important message at the Founders Dinner — to establish a private facility downtown. He lauded the club as "a new visibility, a new evidence of Boston College in the heart of the city. It will represent," he said, "a move of the University back to the city, combining the old and the new."

That goal of a private facility for Boston College alumni totters on the brink of reality. Organized as a non-profit corporation in accordance with the laws of Massachusetts, it received its corporate charter in October 1966. A building has been selected. A prominent architect has plans now nearly completed on the drawing board. A bank is committed to the mortgage.

What, specifically, is the Boston College Downtown Club?

It is the culmination of a century-long desire to link Boston College alumni more closely to the social, cultural, and business life of the city. It is a reflection of the University's maturity, its intensifying impact on the community and its need for an expanded voice in all areas of community life.

It is, on the individual plane, a medium for assured pleasure and potential gain for each member. The Club has a three-fold objective: (1) to provide social and recreational facilities for the large group of alumni who live and work in the Metropolitan Boston area. (2) to have facilities which afford the opportunity to meet with counterparts in business for an exchange of ideas of mutual interest. (3) to serve as a dynamic and unified force of Boston College Alumni and to make significant contributions to the individual, the community, and to the College.

In its present infancy the Club has an ambitious program of social activities, sports events, and business luncheons; but the crux—and the problem—of future success is acquisition of the facility in the heart of reconstructed, modernized Boston.

The proposed structure is a four-story brick building on Hawkins Street. Prominent in the convenient confines of the new Government Center, it bears history's mark as the former Wayfarers Lodge. It stands near the John F. Kennedy Building and was built in 1847 as the Mayhew School. As the only part of the old Boston remaining in the new section, it is a worthy link between past and future.

The building must be purchased from the Boston Redevelopment Authority and renovated at an estimated cost of approximately $360,000. Another $40,000 would be spent for furnishings.

Plans in the making call for a modern kitchen to service a large dining room, two private dining rooms, a cocktail lounge, office, lounge lobby, possibly an outdoor patio on the ground level, and athletic facilities on the third floor.

Final determination will be made by the architectural firm of Edward J. Tedesco Associates. The Board of Governors and officers of the Downtown Club recently voted to retain the firm as a key step toward obtaining the building.

Ed Tedesco, Class of 1949, is also an alumnus of the Harvard Graduate School of Design. His firm has designed many prominent buildings, including the $5 million Internal Revenue Service Data Processing Center in Andover, the new Middlesex County Court House Complex, schools, prominent motel and restaurant facilities.

Drawings depicting the renovated Hawkins Street building are being prepared for submission to the B.R.A. The overall presentation will include complete architectural plans, mortgage financing, feasibility study, and a history of the Club, the purpose, objectives, and plans for future growth and activities.

Redevelopment officials have recognized the fact that the Downtown Club would be an asset to the changing scene and would introduce desirable activity to the area both day and evening. This is their goal, and the Club's officers are optimistic that an option to purchase will be received after the architectural presentation is made shortly.

While 600 have bought charter memberships, another 13,000 alumni in the Boston area now have the door opened to them. Ideally, the immediate goal is 900 regular members and 100 life members. However, with 800 annual members and 70 life members, the Club would have a needed $100,000. The Charlestown Savings Bank will provide a mortgage of $300,000 when club membership reaches the $100,000 mark.

Target date for financial success is the end of the year. Of special importance is the need for about 50 more life members. The $1,000 of each life member is placed in a separate trust fund, with the stipulation that it can be used only toward the building. Father Joyce and Fred Haynes, Club Treasurer, are trustees.

Regular memberships are still available for $35 ($25 for initiation and $10 for dues). Charter rates will prevail until next year. Then, new members will have to pay $70 ($50 for initiation and $20 dues). Those who join before the end of the year will pay only the $20 dues in 1968. It is expected that once the Club is in operation, dues will be a maximum of $100 per year.

President John E. Joyce, Class of 1961, recently announced plans to launch a series of functions even before the building becomes a reality. While these will magnify after completion of the facility, the schedule gives a sample of the broad scope of planned activities:

1. Golf tournament — Pleasant Valley Country Club, Sutton, Mass., October 22nd.
2. Business luncheons and dinners with top speakers including several successful Boston College graduates.
3. Man-of-the-year award dinner.
4. Socials for members and wives after certain B.C. sports events.
5. Placement seminars for graduates with the cooperation of the Placement Bureau.
6. Business seminars with cooperation of the industry and the college.
7. Career Day for seniors.

The bid to establish a downtown club has been the major avocation of many key alumni during the past year. Their effort was built around a nucleus of 14 who constituted the Board of Governors.

Downtown Club President Jack Joyce on right presents life membership to Alumni President Alfred W. Branca, M.D.

First officers are John E. Joyce, President; Thomas F. Ryan, Jr., 1st Vice President; Thomas J. Hynes, Jr., 2nd Vice President; Frederick Haynes, Treasurer; and Andrew Aloisi, Secretary-Clerk; and Directors are Chester Blake, John M. Connors, Jr., Herbert H. Coughlan, Jr., David Dalton, William J. Donovan, Jr., John F. Fitzgerald, John J. Kelliher, Thomas F. Lawlor, and Walter Murphy.

James Derba and Richard Driscoll were recently elected Directors. Members of the Financial Advisory Board are Rev. W. Seavey Joyce, S.J., J. Albert Burgoyne, James Cleary, Timothy Cronin, Robert N. Daley, Richard Driscoll, John Galvin, Thomas M. Joyce, Henry M. Leen, Giles E. Mosher, Jr., Barry Murphy, Peter Quinn, and J. Daniel Walsh.

More memberships and active participation are needed for the final push. To join, or to volunteer your time and effort in key roles, please fill out the form at the end of the article and send it as soon as possible. An application will be sent to you.

The energies and talent of all of us are needed to meet this challenge. This building will be testimony to the success and vitality of the Boston College Alumni and an occasion for grateful memory and hopeful forecast.

A TOUCH of GREATNESS...

by JAMES F. STANTON, '42
Alumni General Chairman

The legacy of greatness and growth at Boston College gives testimony to her men—1863 to 1967—who dared to "dream the impossible dream" and worked to make those dreams come true.

DON QUIXOTE, The Man from LaMancha, could have taken lessons from generations of Boston College men. They have always dared to "dream the impossible dream . . . to run where the brave dare not go." Moreover, periodically Boston College men do "reach the unreachable star."

It happened in 1863, when the Massachusetts Legislature granted a charter to Boston College. Saddled with debts, Father John Bapst was uncertain when the school could be opened and called a meeting of laymen to seek their advice on his financial problems. At the meeting Father Bapst received a note from Andrew Carney saying he would give $20,000 if the group could match the sum in six months. BC's first fund-raising effort soared over the top, and the new college was formally opened for classes in September, 1864.

The bond between Jesuit and layman at Boston College had been formed.

It happened again in 1913, the year of the "second founding of Boston College." Father Thomas I. Gasson, realizing the school had outgrown its South End site, asked the support of the alumni in "raising a fund of $12-million in order to separate the College from the High School, provide new buildings, and develop Boston College into a great university." Together they moved the school to Chestnut Hill and University Heights was born.

The bond between Jesuit and layman at Boston College had been extended and strengthened.

It happened too in 1963, the 100th anniversary of Boston College. A $15-million Strength in Excellence development program was launched, and once again the call went forth to alumni and friends to help Boston College "reach the unreachable star."

Their response can be seen today throughout the campus—concrete evidence of the work and dedication of 6,000 men who actively solicited funds for a greater and stronger Boston College.

CARNEY FACULTY CENTER—dedicated September 18, 1964: provides 200 offices for faculty members in ten departments, as well as classrooms, seminar rooms and conference rooms.

WELCH, WILLIAMS AND RONCALLI HALLS, dedicated May, 1965—provide residence facilities for 400 Boston College men.

HIGGINS HALL—dedicated November 12, 1966—provides 110,000 square feet of space for a biology and physics center.

ENDOWMENT FOR SCHOLARSHIPS—more than 3,000 undergraduate and graduate students are now receiving $4 million in aid per year; $1½ million of this in direct scholarship aid.

ENDOWMENT FOR FACULTY SALARIES—a study conducted by the American Association of University Professors (AAUP) this year reports that Boston College has the best faculty salary structure among all the Catholic universities in America.

BUILDING RENOVATION AND IMPROVEMENTS—refurbishing and conversion of Devlin Hall for the use of the chemistry and biology departments, landscaping and ground improvements, a new athletic field and new parking facilities.

The strength and solidity of the bond between Jesuit and layman at Boston College is indisputable.

In September, 1864 Boston College admitted 22 young men to a small liberal arts college. This year's freshman class numbers more than 1600 men and women who are enrolled in five colleges. Four other schools of what has now become a major university offer programs leading to advanced and professional degrees. Students at Boston College today come from 36 states and from a dozen other nations.

The continuity and on-going nature of this growth toward greatness is exemplified in the new Center for Social Sciences currently under construction at the Chestnut Hill campus. The building, for which ground-breaking ceremonies were held in April, 1967, will house the departments of psychology and sociology; the School of Social Work presently located at 126 Newbury St.; some parts of the School of Education; and the Institute of Human Sciences, a bold, multidisciplinary approach to the human and social problems associated with urbanization, technological change, and related aspects of contemporary social developments.

Begun with funds from the $15-million campaign, the structure is to be completed through the financial efforts of the new $25-million Program for Strength in Excellence.

The goals of this vital campaign are specific and immediate:

UNIVERSITY LIBRARY—today hardly 400 students can be seated at one time in the main reading room. In a period of increasing research, fewer than 60 study carrels exist for faculty and advanced students. The proposed library will offer seating accommodations for nearly 2,000 library users and comfortable study and browsing areas for 1,000 students and faculty members.

UNIVERSITY THEATER AND FINE ARTS CENTER—will allow a greatly expanded formal course program in the arts, and provide an appropriate environment for joint university-community cultural events.

GRADUATE CENTER—the rapid growth of the faculty and the sharp rise in the number of students seeking advanced degrees create an acute need for space for seminars, for planning joint research projects, and for informal conferences with visiting scholars. The proposed Center will also provide offices to give individual faculty members the privacy they need for quiet study, writing and meeting with students.

HOUSING FOR RESIDENT MEN AND WOMEN—as the prestige of the University grows, more and more students from other states and other countries are seeking admission. They must be housed. Today nearly 2,000 women attend the Schools of Education and of Nursing, but no campus residence halls exist for them. Resident facilities for at least 600 young women are badly needed, and so are accommodations for another 500 male undergraduates. Housing for graduate students, particularly those who are married, is a growing need. Modest apartment units for about 400 couples must be planned.

ENDOWMENT FOR SCHOLARSHIPS AND FELLOWSHIPS—Boston College has always placed the will and the ability to learn at the top of its admission requirements. Educational costs, like almost everything else, have been soaring in recent years. Boston College must be able to offer financial aid to those deserving students who could not otherwise obtain education.

BUILDING, RENOVATION, LANDSCAPING AND LAND ACQUISITION: as Boston College grows larger and more complex, maintenance and modification of the existing facilities will be a constant necessity.

These are the specific, immediate goals of Alma Mater.

There is also a specific, immediate need if the goals are to be reached. BOSTON COLLEGE NEEDS YOU!

Hundreds of alumni volunteers are needed to contact fellow alumni in Greater Boston, in Massachusetts, in New England, and throughout the country.

The success of the campaign depends upon personal solicitation of alumni by alumni. We ask for your help. As a volunteer you will be asked to contact at least three, but not more than five, fellow alumni and to enlist their support for this program which is so necessary to the present and future of Boston College.

Bound into this issue of Alumni News is a postal card which we ask you to complete and drop in the mail to us. Just as soon as we hear from you, we'll get in touch with you and fill you in on details.

A program of such magnitude requires individual effort if it is to succeed, and succeed it will.

It has been done. It can be done. It must be done.

Boston College deserves no less.

And YOU can make the difference.

*"And the world will be better for this
That a man . . .
STROVE
To reach the unreachable star."*

The Kingdom of Illusion by Edward R. F. Sheehan, Random House, N.Y., 277 pp., $4.95.

In the previous issue of The Alumni News in a discussion of novels written by Boston College graduates, I neglected, by an unforgiveable oversight, to mention one which is, perhaps, the best. Comparisons are more than odious, they are usually inaccurate, so let us say simply that in "Kingdom of Illusion," published in 1964, Edward R. F. Sheehan published a wise and witty novel that showed more than promise. It showed a great deal of talent, knowledge, insight and humor. Since it appeared before the chore of reviewing for the Alumni News fell to me, and since, no doubt, the majority of the alumni have not read it, it is not unreasonable to review it now.

Mr. Sheehan worked as a newspaperman and as a press officer for the American embassies in Cairo and Beirut for several years, and so brings to his novel a sound background for setting the scene of the action in a Middle East kingdom, mythical, of course, and for lampooning the channels and chambers of the United States State Department that has the knack of appearing less real at times than myth.

The central character of "The Kingdom of Illusion," is a Boston Irishman, graduate of Harvard, classmate of the Secretary of State Calvin Hampshire, when the story opens a veteran diplomat, defected from the faith of his fathers, separated in fact from his wanderlust, lustful wife. He is Sean Sebastian Fitzgibbon, a master of Arabic, competent, efficient, and when the story opens, U.S. ambassador to Al Khadra, which might be Iraq, Lebanon or Egypt. He has, deep down, a sense of social inferiority because of his Irishness which he deems, makes him "shanty" Irish in the eyes of his WASP contemporaries who control the establishment. But as a competent Arabist he loves his work and turns his affections, in the absence of his wife, to his angwantibo, a lemur-like creature, rare to the point of uniqueness.

Around Fitzgibbon swirl characters: the King, the prime minister, Paul Pullmotor, a sort of footloose Barney Baruch, confidant of Secretary of State Hampshire and his top level negotiator-fixer-undercover man, a walking CIA with the supreme confidence of the ignorant, bent in "The Kingdom of Illusion" on turning over the government and bringing in a new prime minister who will have a more "realistic" attitude toward Russian Communism. The irony of the Mr. Sheehan's satire, of course, is that the Oxford-educated prime minister's attitude toward Russian Communism is far more 'realistic' than the hot-house gullibilities of Pullmotor or Hampshire.

When Pullmotor arrives in El Khadra to move his plans of revolution, the action starts. It culminates, as must so much of human action, in unnecessary tragedy. Author Sheehan views it all with an ironic eye, conscious that man's will can control himself, but not events. He writes with style as well as humor, and the book reminds one, at once, of Evelyn Waugh and William Lederer. We have the 'ugly American' presented to us in something other than a gush of polemics. Mr. Sheehan is an artist and is working on behalf of art not propaganda.

The book should be read by every member of the alumni. Because of the Middle East crisis, it is more timely than it was when it appeared. It has a pertinence today that is poignant, and its wisdom anticipated and extended beyond the portrait of the Arab given in the July 14 issue of Time magazine. They should have hired Mr. Sheehan. At present, I am told, he is in Paris writing another novel. The ferment, fighting and insane factionalism of the Middle East certainly offers him fertile soil for a masterpiece. To understand that crisis better, read "The Kingdom of Illusion."

Herbert A. Kenny, '34

(Mr. Kenny, book editor of the Boston Globe, is author of "Suburban Man," and "Twelve Birds." His fantasy "Dear Dolphin," will appear this September.)

ROCHESTER

June 25 marked the first function of the newly established B.C. Club of Rochester, N.Y. Hosting the club outing were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hanna, '50 at their home on Lake Ontario. Chairman Ken Roos, '57 reports that 55 alumni were in attendance at this initial event. In addition to President Bill Gehan, other officers named were Al Smitz, '52, vice president; Doug DeSilva, '63, Treasurer and Joyce (Swinski) Clifford, '65, Secretary.

Park, Wheaton and Naperville. Alumni who have been active in the initial formation include Wallace Carroll, Ed Sliney, Bill O'Brien, Herb Chernack and Dan Carroll.

OLD COLONY

Summer activities of the Club included a cocktail party at the Heights during Alumni Weekend and another successful family outing at Camp Glenmere in Norton. The officers have announced that a Fall Dinner Dance will be held on Saturday, October 21 in Alumni Hall at the College. Incoming officers will be installed at that time. Plans are being made to hold another "Night at Harolds" before the end of the year. For further details please contact Dick Hopkins in Stoughton or Chet Lalli in Brockton.

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA

Secretary Alice Macdonough reports that the Club will hold their regular luncheons at the Marines Memorial Roof in San Francisco on the second Wednesday of each month at 12:30. All alumni in the Bay area and visiting alumni are most welcome to attend.

PARADE of CLASSES

THE OLD GUARD

Our Golden Jubilarians Rt. Rev. Garrett H. Condon, S.T.L., '11, Pastor of St. Catherine's Church, Graniteville, ordained at St. John Lateran Church, Rome, June 2, 1917, elevated to the rank of Domestic Prelate, April 6, 1964. Rt. Rev. Edward M. Hartigan, '11, Pastor of Immaculate Conception Church, Everett, ordained June 8, 1917 at the Cathedral of the Holy Cross by Cardinal O'Connell, founder and still supervisor of Camp Cedar Crest at Marshfield, elevated to the rank of Domestic Prelate, August 27, 1957, Dean of the Everett District. Rt. Rev. John J. Phelan, P.A., '11, Pastor of St. Ann's Church, Neponset, ordained June 2, 1917 at St. John Lateran Church, Rome, elevated to the rank of Domestic Prelate, February 22, 1954, and to Prothonotary Apostolic, December, 1964. Diocesan Consultor.

Joe (Stretch) Fitzgerald, '13, is still teaching at St. Mary's High School (Dominican) at New Haven. He and his wife live at 106 Burnett Street.

John P. Curley, '13, for many years our Graduate Athletic Manager and who is responsible for securing National recognition for our football teams away back when, now in his retirement he can look back with great satisfaction on his many accomplishments.

We understand Owen McGaffigan, '13, has forsaken his abode in Florida to return to Melrose. Are we right, Owen?

Very Rev. Francis J. Connell, '08, was buried in Washington. Born in Roxbury, he attended Boston Latin School, Boston College and Mt. Alphonsus Seminary at Esopus, New York and then received a Doctor of Sacred Theology from the University of Angelico in Rome. A former President of the Catholic Theological Society of America he was a professor, lecturer and author of books on Moral Theology. Attending the pro-burial funeral Mass at the Mission Church were Rt. Rev. Bernard S. O'Kane, '09, Pastor of St. Bernard's Church in West Newton, Rt. Rev. Aloysius R. Finn, '11, Pastor of St. John the Evangelist Church in Winthrop, Rt. Rev. John L. Parsons, '24, Pastor of St. Philip Neri Church in Waban.

14 JOHN S. KEOHANE
46 Carlton Street, Brookline

Rev. John L. Hurld, S.J., (Chaplain) Lieutenant Colonel United States Army, son of our late classmate Daniel P. Hurld, celebrated the Silver Jubilee of his Ordination to the Priesthood, Sunday, June 18, at the Church of St. Barbara, West Woburn with a Mass of Thanksgiving. Rev. James I. Carroll, Pastor, was Arch-Priest. The sermon for the occasion was delivered by Rev. William A. Donaghy, S.J. ('31 Holy Cross) former President of the College of the Holy Cross and now stationed at the Heights. Seated within the Sanctuary were Rt. Rev. Christopher O'Neill, Pastor of St. Charles Church, Woburn, and Rev. Francis J. Donovan, S.J. ('36 Weston College), Treasurer of Xavier High School, Concord, and a classmate of Father Hurld. Father was stationed at Okinawa and other places. He returned to Fort Leavenworth to receive orders sending him to Heidelberg where he is now. Present also were his mother Mrs. Daniel P. Hurld of Woburn, his sisters, Sister Anna Louise, S.N.D., teacher of Music at the Novitiate in Ipswich, Sister Emmanuela, S.P., teacher at Sacred Hearts School, Malden, his brother, Daniel P. Hurld, Jr., Secretary Essex County Agricultural Commission, his sister, Mrs. Philip (Elizabeth) Rowen, Principal of the Plympton School in Woburn, and his sister, Mrs. Charles (Anna Louise) Flathers. The Class was represented by John Keohane.

Our sympathy to Tom Finnegan on the death of his brother Henry of the State Civil Service Commission. May he rest in peace!

Rev. Charles J. Dunn, S.J., Vice President for Student Affairs at the College of the Holy Cross, nephew of our late classmate Rev. John J. Joyce and son of Mrs. Helen G. Dunn and the late Charles K. Dunn of 445 Beale Street, Milton, has been appointed the first Rector of the new Bishop Connolly High School in Fall River. He holds degrees of A.B., A.M. and Licentiate in Sacred Theology from Weston College. He was Assistant Principal of Cheverus High School in Portland, Maine, for three years before returning to Worcester.

John Keohane's nephew Rev. John J. Geoghan, has been assigned to St. Paul's Church in Hingham.

Dr. Tom Reid's son, Tom, ground radio operator with the Air Force at Panama came home August 17 for thirty days after which time he will report to California. He visited with his mother Mrs. Marion Reid at 15 Chesterfield Road in Milton.

15 PHILIP J. BOND
18 Houston St., West Roxbury

The average age of the Class is close to seventy-five years. We have now reached the stage of life called "How-well-you-look!"

Cornelius J. Merrigan reports that he is again in good health, although somewhat puzzled by his doctors comment that he (Connie) is now ready for the Reserve. The doctor didn't designate what Reserve — Army or Navy.

The Class was saddened by the death of our classmate Rt. Rev. George W. Wiseman, pastor of St. Joseph's Church, Wakefield. Father George is remembered for his sunny disposition, his ever present smile, and the genuine interest in each one of us. His sister, Miss Ellen G. Wiseman was for many years the highly respected headmaster of the Girls' High School in the Boston school system.

Sister Mary Regis, C.S.J. (Helen M. Moran) who died May 27, 1967, was the sister of our classmate Rt. Rev. Stephen F. Moran, late pastor of St. John The Baptist Church of Quincy. Father Steve's brother, the late Frederick L. Moran, taught for many years in the Boston Trade High School.

Rt. Rev. James F. Grimes, our classmate, evidently was successful in calming troubled waters in his sea-coast parish of St. Thomas Aquinas. Construction of a new bath house in Nahant threatened to cause a serious traffic situation which was avoided by yielding a bit here and there.

Add to your mailing list the name of Rt. Rev. George S. Brennan, former pastor of St. James The Apostle parish, Arlington. Effective May 1, 1967, Father George lives at Regino Cheri. His summer was spent at the family cottage at Pocasset.

John J. Walsh was one of the participants at the First Annual Estate Building and Management Institute of Boston College, as reported in the Newsletter of July, 1967.

The Rt. Rev. John J. Allston, pastor of St. Joseph's Church, Quincy, officiated at the marriage of his niece, Miss Claire Joan Hussey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Hussey, to Mr. David Michael Geary of Quincy.

16 JAMES L. O'BRIEN
41 Pond Circle, Jamaica Plain

Our Memorial Mass was held at St. Gregory's Convent through the kindness and generosity of Monsignor McNulty. The Notre Dame Sisters were most hospitable and we appreciate their many acts of friendship.

Dr. Roy Heffernan was elected Class President.

George Hendrick for the first time was present at our Memorial Mass and he stayed at B.C. for all the Alumni festivities.

Monsignor Dalton has a great love for flowers and his garden at St. Kevin's is beautiful.

Art Gormley plans to spend most of his time in Florida.

We appreciate Wally's excellent work as Alumni Director and we wish him health and success in his next work.

17 THOMAS D. CRAVEN
107 Barrett Street, Needham

The Golden Anniversary of this class was observed at the Heights on the weekend, June 2 to 5, when as guests of Fr. Walsh and the Alumni Association those accepting the invitation — "Welcome Back to the Heights" — enjoyed the best weekend of the summer, weatherwise, up to the time of this writing.

Herewith the official afterthoughts of our perpetual president, John Flynn:

"To 1917 Classmates:

"Our 50th Anniversary Celebration was a grand success. We had a Ball, didn't we?

"I have expressed the gratitude of 1917 to Father Rector and to Peter Quinn, Alumni President, for hosting such a generous and well planned program for us.

"We seemed to astonish everyone with the large attendance, class unity and the continuous social and physical activity. The New Breed of Septuagenarians!"

"The wives of our deceased classmates were delightful guests."

Attending the activities of the Golden Anniversary weekend were twenty-seven members of the class, ten wives and five widows of deceased classmates. The class was represented by: Vin Burke, Fr. Frank Caffrey, M.M., Tom Craven, Ed Cruise, Dan Daley, Jack Doyle, Fr. Maurice Dullea, S.J., Walter Durnan, John Flynn, Frank Heaney, Mike Hickey, Marty Higgins, Bill Hoefling, Fr. Lee, Msgr. William McCarthy, Jack McCarty, Rado McKeown, Bo Mahoney, Fr. Joe Merrick, S.J., Maurice Murphy, Fr. Frank Quinn, Bill Reid, Charley Sharkey, Fr. Bob Sheridan, S.J., Jim Slattery, Dr. Ed Tobin and Msgr. Adrian Verette.

The wives present included Mrs. Vincent Burke, Mrs. Thomas Craven, Mrs. Edward Cruise, Mrs. Daniel Daley, Mrs. John Flynn, Mrs. Martin Higgins, Mrs. William Hoefling, Mrs. Ralph McKeown, Mrs. Roland Mahoney and Mrs. William Reid.

The widows of our departed classmates included Mrs. Edward T. Austin, Mrs. Thomas A. Bray, Mrs. Joseph F. Dee, Mrs. George G. Holland and Mrs. Ralph F. V. Quinn.

Cited for traveling the longest distances were Fr. Joe Merrick, S.J., from Baghdad, Iraq, Fr. Frank Caffrey, M.M., from Los Angeles, Dyker Hoefling from Mesa, Arizona, and Jim Slattery from Cleveland.

From the first event on June 2 in St. Mary's Hall where a Memorial Mass was celebrated by Fr. Frank Quinn assisted by Fr. Maurice Dullea, S.J., the members of the class, guests of the college and the alumni association, had a busy and eventful weekend which they will long remember. Some of those present who had not been to the Heights since graduation when there were but two buildings on the campus were amazed by the almost unbelievable growth of the college.

John Flynn reports that of the twenty-five classmates who did not attend he had heard from most of them reporting that on account of illness and in some cases previous commitments they regretted being unable to be present. We wish to assure them that they were well remembered by those present.

Fr. Frank Caffrey, M.M., took advantage of being near his old home town to visit his brother, Augustin, in Lawrence, who was seriously ill. Late in June the brother, a retired civil engineer, MIT '11, passed away. Mr. Caffrey was the father of Federal Judge Andrew H. of Andover, Rev. Augustin J. Jr., S.T.D., of Fairfield Univ., Rev. Francis J., M.M., of Kyoto, Japan and Joseph F. of Andover. To Father Frank, Mrs. Caffrey and the Caffrey family we extend the sincere sympathy of the class. May he rest in peace.

Phil Dwyer has recovered from his eye operation and cardiac attack. He is now living with his sister in the old family home in Medford.

Mrs. Veronica Lydon has been in Europe with her son, James, and his family. James, professor of history at Duquesne Univ., is on a Fulbright Scholarship.

Our Class will observe its Golden Anniversary during this coming year, with the climax coming during Alumni Weekend, June of 1968. For the few short months that intervene, time will pass all too quickly, and it is obvious that we should start to plan our Anniversary activities now. Please contact me as soon as possible at the above address and let me know your feelings on the following questions:

1. Do you plan to attend the June events?
2. Have you suggestions, plans or any ideas that will assure the success of this once in a lifetime event?
3. If it will be impossible for you to attend, let us know if we may count on your cooperation towards a class gift.

You can call me at the following: Home: 547-5466 or the Office: 876-6800, Ext. 224.

FRANCIS J. ROLAND
10 Homewood Rd., West Roxbury

To commemorate his Golden Jubilee as a Jesuit, Rev. Martin P. Harney, S.J., has spent two Summer months in Europe — with especial emphasis on Ireland where, as rumor has it, he has a relative, or two.

We are grieved to announce the death on July 21 of our Classmate, Prof. Harold Fagan, retired professor of Chemistry at the college. Harold received his M.S. at B.C. in 1920 and did Graduate work at M.I.T. He served as Professor in the Chemistry Department from 1920 until his retirement in 1963. Harold was on the football squad from 1916-1919 and was an officer of the Varsity Club. He also served as a member of the Framingham School committee and finance committee. Harold's jovial personality will be sorely missed at class and alumni gatherings. He was always a loyal alumnus. We extend our deep sympathy to his widow, Lillian, and to his children — two sons and four daughters, all of whom have lived up to the sterling qualities of their devoted parents.

We are also grieved to announce the death of Charles L. Cote in April, after a long illness. Charlie was training manager at American Cyanamid's Lederle Laboratories for 13 years before his retirement in 1961. Charlie taught in the Cambridge public school system for 18 years. In 1945 he came to American Cyanamid, working at the firm's Bound Brook, N.J. plant. He was transferred to Peary River in 1948. May his soul rest in peace.

Received a nice letter from Rev. Vincent J. Kennally, S.J. It reads :

Dear Frank,

With time rolling on and even the Golden Jubilee of Class '18 just around the corner, it is fitting to pass on something to help fill up your ALUMNI NEWS column.

I had a pleasant distraction last Thursday when offering a Confirmation Mass on the Island of Fefer right here in the Truk lagoon. The altar of reservation has a very beautiful tabernacle inscribed as follows:

In loving memory of our Spiritual Director
Rev. Daniel F.X. O'Connor, S.J., USNR, Chaplain, World War II

by

Boston College Evening Alumni

I knew Father O'Connor well and the distraction brought back memories of him and grateful recollection of the Alumni Association which so thoughtfully keeps his memory alive.

We have at least one B.C. Alumnae here, Sister Patricia Cody, M.M.B., who is the Vice-Provincial of the Mercedarian Sisters, whose headquarters is in Kansas City, Missouri and who is now making a visitation of the Sisters in the Carolines and Marshalls. She has an M.A. — Education, I think, from B.C.

So, give my greetings to all classmates. Perhaps I'll be there to meet them for the Fiftieth.

J. ROBERT BRAWLEY
33 Pomfret St., W. Roxbury

Three more members of the class have passed on since the last roll-call was taken and we regret to report the deaths of our Jack Sheehan, Arthur Hinckley and Joe White. Jack's death came as a shock to all of us it was so unexpected as Joe had not been too well since the accident he sustained in Los Angeles in 1960, at the Democratic Convention. Arthur will be remembered as the senior class beadle in 1919-1920. In extending the class sympathy to their families we must also include Gerry Cleary whose brother, Joe passed away in June. Gerry has retired after many years teaching at Boston Latin School. Joe Moran has retired from Boston Technical High. Dr. Neil O'Connor and Leo Ricardi extend an invitation to any members of the Forty Thieves of 1920 who plan on a trip to Florida to stop over with them. John Linehan writes from Washington that he is retired from his job with the government and says his youngest son graduates from Notre Dame next June. Ed Roddan was a recent visitor to Boston from Washington and got together with Neil O'Connor who also was in town. Ed Higgins, John McMorrow, Dan Lucy, Pop Pyne and the class officers were dinner guests of Neil's at the Somersett.

JEREMIAH W. MAHONEY
86 Moss Hill Rd., Jamaica Plain

We regret the deaths on May 29 of Ed. O'Connor and on July 27 of Dr. Raymond A. McCarty, and extend our sympathies to the members of their families.

Our condolences to Judge John J. Sullivan upon the death of his sister Frances on July 13, and to Fr. "Mike" Finnegan upon the death of his brother Henry, Director of the Civil Service Commission for the Commonwealth.

Joe "Swede" Sullivan and his charming wife, Mary, came in from Mobile, Alabama, on business and pleasure. We had lunch and reviewed the past and present, but did not talk about the future. Joe's son is a graduate of Spring Hill in Mobile.

Seventeen of our class were included in the 25 who were feted, very well fed and toasted as Jubilarians, at the 1967 graduation exercises of B. C. High. Our Fr. John Donnelly, O.M.I., was highly honored with the request that he deliver the invocation and he did a great job. Other priests who joined us were Fr. Jim Donovan, Fr. Joseph Fitzgerald, S.J., and Fr. George Murphy, S.J. The remaining '21ers included Burke, Callanan, Callen, Finan, Dr. Gregory, Griffin, Jack Mahony, John McGrath, Motley, Wilfred Murphy, Paté, Judge Sullivan and your editor. Some of these men had not seen each other for 50 years.

The 1916 football team was specially honored at the Varsity Club Football Dinner and among the guests from our class were Tom Dee, Bill Dowling and Jim Fitzpatrick, all of whom looked very healthy and well preserved.

"Msgr. John Powers, Pastor of Gate of Heaven Parish, South Boston, has been appointed to the Retirement Board of the Archdiocese by His Eminence, Cardinal Cushing."

'22 NATHANIEL J. HASENFUS
15 Kirk St., West Roxbury

Joe Bearer and Mrs. Bearer have recently returned from their fifth trip to Europe. Joe is semi-retired and is enjoying every minute. William Carty has retired as superintendent of the Everett Schools, after having worked in that system since graduation from Boston College in 1922. His son graduated from the college last June.

One of the most beautiful weddings of the year found Mary Ann Duffly, daughter of Paul, married James J. Garrity of Dorchester, a B.C. Alumnus, at St. John's Church in Canton. Mary Ann, a graduate of Catherine Labouré School of Nursing, was given in marriage by Paul, Jr.

Did you see Eugene Fanning's handsome face on the front page of the August 10 Herald-Traveller? I compare it with his picture of page 66 Sub Turri; 45 years does make a difference.

Two priests of '22 have passed away since the last issue of Alumni News went to press, Fr. Frank Morrissey and Fr. Thomas Foley. Both were outstanding, devoted clergymen and wonderful people. Father Morrissey formerly a member of the faculty at Cheverus High and later pastor at Farmington and at Bath, Maine, was an exceptional orator. His parochial school and convent have recently been built and plans for his new church are all completed. Father Tom was a catcher in Alop Hendricksen's 1922 baseball team at the Heights. He had served many Churches in the Boston archdiocese and was on special assignments with distinction. He was one of my earliest B.C. friends, visiting my home in Newton with his two brothers, both priests in the archdiocese and his sister, now Mrs. Robert Dole, long before any of us entered B.C. High. . . . Harold McMann, another of our James Street friends, died suddenly in July.

I had a call from Bill Rowlandson recently. He has been ill but is on the way to recovery.

Our 45th anniversary celebration was chairmanned by William Conty and William Sheehan. Our Mass of thanksgiving was celebrated by Monsignor James Doyle, assisted by Monsignor Leonard McMahan. Bishop Thomas Riley gave the anniversary sermon. Most of the surviving classmates attended the Mass and Communion Supper at Alumni Hall. Many attended the Friday night dinner and many other events of Alumni Week. We hope to see many classmates at the grand Varsity Club dinner-dance at McHugh Forum on the eve of the West Point game. Two thousand are expected; the dinner will be excellent. The West Point coaching staff (including John Macanlay whom we all remember from his work at B.C. both as player and coach) and the West Point Glee Club will all be present.

The Queen of the day will be selected. Keep the date open—Sept. 29.

On the subject of anniversaries, our class of 1910 B.C. High, plans a wonderful 50th year celebration in 1968. First of several events to be held is a class table or tables at the West Point Dance. 1918 men will be notified by special letter.

It was my pleasure to attend as an invited guest and to tell of the athletic feats of Luke Urban '21, all-time four-letter athlete of B.C. at his wonderful farewell reception. Four hundred attended a very inspiring clam bake at the Welsh Boy's Club in Berkeley where scores of Luke's former athletes paid tribute to a great coach. Tony Abramian, able center on Mike Holovak's eleven that dedicated the stadium at the Heights in the Navy game. To us old timers the deeds of "The Triumvirate"—Luke Urban, Jimmy Fitzpatrick, and Frank Morrissey will live forever.

'23 MRS. FRANCIS L. FORD
9 McKone Street,
Dorchester, Mass. 02122

The most important news of the Class is the elevation to the dignity of Very Reverend Monsignor to Fr. Tom Lane in April. On May 21st a testimonial was given to the Monsignor at the HyWay Inn in Byfield, Mass. Over 700 of his friends from far and near were in attendance to extend their congratulations on this wonderful occasion. Atty. Thomas M. Joyce was toastmaster, and Rev. Leo P. O'Keefe, S.J. a lifelong friend, was principal speaker. The Newburyport Daily News gave the affair excellent coverage — wish all the classmates could read it.

As a Class may we extend our congratulations to Monsignor Thomas Lane. Ad multos annos.

From John Flavin we hear he is the proud grandfather of his first grandson, Charles Barrett Leary, Jr. born to his daughter Jane in New York City, August 4th, 1967.

Jim Daly and his wife Margaret have just returned from their second trip to Europe in two years, and on this occasion had the privilege of a private audience with His Holiness, Pope Paul VI. Jim retired from teaching in the Boston schools a couple of years ago.

On vacation in Ireland is Joe Sweeney—From all reports he is having a very enjoyable visit.

Nick Tangney reports to your secretary that he is fine, his family is all grown up—his son, Joseph is at B.C. Law School and that he has seven grandchildren.

After 30 years of association with the Massachusetts Rehabilitation Commission, Louis Tracy retired on August 1st.

Walter Mayo reports that he has 21 grandchildren. Can any of the classmates beat that? Walter Jr. is a Lt. Colonel in the U.S. Army and is back in Korea with the First Missile Battalion; Richard is Resident Agent for the F.B.I.—stationed in Salisbury, Md.; Hugh is connected with Liberty Mutual as Sales Superintendent; Robert at I.B.M. in Poughkeepsie and daughter, Virginia is living in Braintree. Walter's home in Norwell was broken into in the Spring and his beautiful violin along with many of his wife's valuable were stolen.

Also from Norwell we learn that Bill Nolan's daughter, Nancy Jean will be married at St. Helen's Church to Mr. Kenneth Waterman in September.

Dr. C. Joseph Delaney a leading New York surgeon, was installed as President of the New York County Medical Society. Joe is Attending Surgeon at Knickerbocker, Columbus, Flower-Fifth Avenue, Misericordia, Doctors and Metropolital Hospitals. Joe is also Clinical Professor of Surgery at New York Medical College and Chief of the Division of Pediatric Surgery at that institution.

The Chairman of the President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped, presented an inscribed silver reverse bowl to Rear Admiral Bartholomew W. Hogan, M.C., USN, RET., Department Medical Director, American Psychiatric Association, Washington, D.C., in appreciation for his services to the handicapped as Chairman of the Program Planning Committee for the 1967 Annual Meeting of the President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped in Washington.

To all you youngsters of the Class of 23—you will be celebrating your 45th anniversary this coming June, and it is not too early to start thinking about it. Cece McGoldrick will be in charge of the arrangements—if you have any suggestions please contact him.

Last but not least, if you have any items of news, PLEASE send them along to me, or call me.

'24 JOSEPH L. TRIBBLE
128 Rockland Avenue, Malden

My daughter, Kathy, is studying for a degree in Nursing at Salve Regina College in Newport, R.I. and will be a Junior this Fall. All of which leads into the fact that frequent trips have brought me into closer contact with Judge Arthur Sullivan. You boys who meet up with his genial and unassuming self on Alumni Day don't half realize what an august person you've been talking to. Here's what a little sleuthing by yours truly has brought forth. Our Arthur has been Judge of the First Judicial District, State of R.I. since 1941. He is Chairman of the Board of Bar Examiners for the State; a member of the Board of Trustees of the Savings Bank of Newport; Vice Pres. of the Newport Electric Corp.; member of the Board of Trustees of the Newport Hospital; Executive Committee of the Preservation Society of the City; Board of Advisors of Salve Regina College and Director of the Serra Club of Newport County. What a catch? And he never married.

Jim Doherty is busy keeping the MDC on an even keel. Marie and Jim are living in Mattapan. Their son, Mike, graduated from BC in '66 and their second boy, Jim, a Major in Accounting is due to enter Senior this Fall. Their 3rd son, Mark, attends St. Angela's in Mattapan and is close to Junior High status. He majors in the Red Sox, Patriots, Celtics and BC Sports.

Two weeks in Hawaii with their 4 and 5 year old grandsons have made the year for Ed Barry and Agnes. Now Ed can go back to another year as Principal of the Grover Cleveland School in Dorchester with vim and vigor. Ed is a Retired Captain in the USNR with 26 years of service, 10 of them active and is Past Pres. of the Mass. Reserve Officers Assn. and also of the Boston Principals Assn. Navy is in the blood for son, Thomas, Ex BC '56, Annapolis '58, is a Lieutenant, Operations Officer of the USS Goldsborough off Vietnam. His wife and two boys are living in Honolulu. Ed's daughter Barbara, Emmanuel Grad, is now Barbara McCue. She has served all over the world including Washington and is still active, serving on the Commandant's Staff at the Fargo Building. John Pyne and Eunice still live in Hingham, where John and Syl Connolly divide the town between them. John is Pres. of the Pyne Funeral Home assisted by son, Gerard, BC '53, who is also a Lt. Commander in the Naval Reserve Training Center at Quincy. John, Jr., is Asst. Comptroller of the University of Penn. Our classmate's grandchildren, increase by two every time I see him, the figure has gone from 10 to 12. Watch for the latest figures next issue.

Fr. Tom Walsh is still Pastor of St. Rose of Lima in Topsfield. Would love to see some of the boys, especially the old Latin School gang.

In June, Dr. Frank Kiloyne was officially appointed to the post of President of Brooklyn College by the Board of Higher Education.

25 WILLIAM A. REILLY 14 Arborway, Jamaica Plain

Hear Ye! Hear Ye!

Our "Sonny" Foley completed 40 years as coach in the Cambridge schools this year. He taught hockey for 8 years, and baseball for 32 years, consistently producing outstanding teams and players. Now retiring from coaching duties he will continue in academic teaching. Boston newspapers marked the occasion with full page pictorial and story coverage. Seems like only yesterday when Sonny was scooting around centre ice on our famous hockey team, then in the spring making dazzling stops all over the infield for the strong BC baseball team. (As for football, in spite of his lack of height he raised havoc with the "big guys" while playing as substitute quarterback). He has to be among the first selected for any all time BC hall of fame hockey or baseball teams.

Another highly successful teacher-coach from our class is Francis J. "Buzzzer" Keane. He is coach of baseball at Boston Technical High and has served as basketball coach and assistant football coach while serving as head of the French department.

Steve Patten in Boston and Jack Culhane in Cambridge are two other teacher coaches who have a huge following in scholastic circles and who are still enjoying success in their work.

"Huck" Finnegan, still another of our renowned class representatives on varsity baseball and track teams, passed away on Friday, August fourth, at the age of 67. "Huck" had served as college correspondent for the Boston Traveler and later became copy editor and reporter on that paper. He was on the Boston Transcript staff for four years, then transferred to the Boston American in 1963, where he became sports editor. During World War II he was an overseas correspondent featuring first hand accounts of New England servicemen abroad.

In athletics "Huck" was good enough as a baseball player to rate a tryout with the New York Yankees and he was a member of a B.C. Intercollegiate Championship Relay Team during his student days. He is survived by his wife Eleanor, a son and two daughters.

On Sunday, June 18, 1967 at St. Theresa's Church, West Roxbury, Father Christopher Brickley, M.M., said his first public mass. An overflow congregation heard the Most Rev. Bishop Minihan, D.D., deliver an homily full of warmth and eloquence, and a large choir embellished the colorful ceremonies. More than five hundred persons attended the reception immediately following mass. Our distinguished Ed Brickley '25, Headmaster of Boston's Business School, and his attractive wife, proud parents of Father Christopher, were hosts. Among those present were classmates Jack McDonald, who spent considerable time denying that he is a millionaire now, and he brought along his Maryknoll brother Joe as a supporting witness. But Father Joe is going to be working with Father Brickley in the Cleveland area for a while, in fund raising activities, so he was disqualified as a witness in the matter of assessing Jack's estimated wealth. Atty. Al Hyland served as Counsel for both sides. Present as a jury were Dr. John Collins, Pres. of Newman School, Co-educators John O'Keefe, Joe Bond and Joe Kozlowski, (now 70 lbs. less)—by sheer will power—that he was last year.

The Hylands and Girouxs were in the Society columns early in August through the wedding of Al and Mrs. Hyland's daughter, Kathleen Ellen Hyland and Douglas Gerard Krein of West Hartford, Conn., were married in Medford by Father Charles Hyland, uncle of the bride. Mrs. Anne Giroux of Woburn was her sister's matron of honor and Mrs. Anne Hyland, Waltham, was among the bridesmaids. Albert Hyland, Jr., was an usher as was Kevin Giroux.

Continuing in his work of establishing notable academic literature—our Jim Tobin is listed as the co-editor of the newly published Dictionary of Catholic Biography, a tome which contains 13,000 life profiles.

Congratulations on all sides were received by our class Vice President—Fr. Jack Keahane, when it was announced in April that he had become elevated to the rank of domestic prelate. Monsignor Keahane is Pastor of St. Mary's Parish, Foxboro, Mass. Foxboro is the town made famous by our Ed Donovan who served on the Board of Selectmen there for so many years, and our late lamented classmate Charley DeCoursey who was Pastor at St. Mary's from 1958 to 1960.

If still in the land of the living, its time to hear from, or something about the following two dozen "missing persons club": — Jim Ahearn (fastest wit in town), Dr. Tom Barrett—Marblehead (?), Dr. Wm. Bateman—Lawrence, Jim Bride (U.S. Army Officer?), Lester Callahan, John Corcoran, Leo Cronan, Ken Delaney (Saxophonist), George (Jake) Dempsey (Travel Agent—US Navy?), Phil Dillon, John L. Donovan, Art Duffly, Jim Flaherty, Clarence Flahive (Sears Roebuck?), Gerry Flynn, Bill Glavin, George Graham, Bernard Hayward, Howard Healey, Connie Hines, Peter Keaney, Fred Leary (N.Y. Phone Co.), Leo Lane, John L. Lyons.

Dr. Art Gorman very proud of his five grandchildren, incidentally and naturally. Son Dr. Dave, urologist, is through his residency and is in the Air Force, stationed in the Philippines for two more years. His two sons remain at Shaker Heights, Cleveland. Young Arthur, B.C. with a Columbia masters, is a naval lieutenant, nearing the end of his term on duty. His destroyer is on the way to Vietnam, and young Art leaves the ship in Japan to return to Boston. Art's daughter, Marjorie, Mrs. Charles Mahuna, M.D., is living in Milton with her three children. Enthusiastic Dr. Art and his Estelle still summer at Humarock.

Worked with Joe Hughes, middle of August, interviewing candidates for admission to the Boston School system. Master of the Francis Parkman school district, Joe is well even though he has a gimp knee to bother his golfing swing. He spent his vacation at Jaffrey, N.H., as he has for the past 12 years. Nephew Walter Turley is a sophomore at Northeastern, niece Ann Marie is at Emmanuel and niece Lynda is at Girls' Latin School.

John Dooley completely recovered from a spring indisposition and back on his golf game. He sent me a clipping—a Thermofax repro about Tom Shea—Thomas P.—now of Hingham and originally from Roxbury.

Tom's hobby brought about the news story; he's a baseball fan in the true sense, has a library of 600,000 facts about baseball and hopes to publish "Baseball from A to Z", if he can find time from his real estate work.

It's been so long since I have seen Tom, I checked Sub Turri, and sure enough, there was his handsome physog. It will be nice to see him at our next class dinner this fall.

Gentlemen, I regret that there is no more. Tidbits from you will still be welcome. See you at Alumni Field.

The two main events of the Fortieth Anniversary of the Graduation of the Class of 1927 were the family Communion Breakfast on Sunday, May 28, and the Alumni Day Luncheon on June 3. The Memorial Mass was celebrated by the Rev. Walter J. Waldrone, Jr., at St. Mary's Chapel. Joe McKenney and Dr. Tim Lyons supervised the festivities at the breakfast which followed the Mass. A total of 100 members, wives, children, grandchildren, sisters, and friends enjoyed this most pleasant reunion. About forty classmates were present for the Alumni Day activities. Those members attending one or both of these memorable highlights in our class history were: John Donovan, Jack Dempsey, Tom Coughlan, Howard Buckley, Martin Griffin, Jim Connors, Dr. John Carroll, Jim Cotter, Dr. Tim Lyons, Joe McKenney, Frank Regan, Frank Burns, John Toohey, John "Pete" Hickey, Marty Tierney, Luke McCloskey, Frank Shea, Pres. by EDDIE MILLER '57

Director, Sports Publicity

SEPTEMBER is the month and football reigns king of college sports again at University Heights as it does on hundreds of other campuses across the country.

Veteran Boston College coach Jim Miller has been working some 80 candidates through the rugged 2-a-day workouts since the first of the month, and he and his staff have been very definitely satisfied with the results thus far.

This season marks Jim's 6th at B.C. Starting with the '62 season, Miller has posted 8-2, 6-3, 6-3, 6-4, and suffered his first losing season ever last year when a last minute, last play, "bomb" in the exciting Holy Cross game gave the Crusaders a 32-25 victory and the difference between a .500 and a losing (4-6) record.

This won't happen again if Jim Miller, his staff, and their long spring and summer of planning and hard work have anything to do with it.

Looking forward to the 1967 campaign, Miller is optimistic as usual, but a little more cautious in his expectations.

Twenty-five lettermen return and seventeen are lost from the 1966 team. Of the seventeen, ten are linemen and six of these were regulars. Offensive guard and tackle and defensive linebacking are positions hardest hit and those Coach Miller has concentrated the most effort in rebuilding.

He will have an even distribution of lettermen who are returning with a man at almost every position. He will start the season considerably stronger at offensive end, offensive quarterback, and in the defensive backfield—three areas which proved to be the real trouble spots for the 1966 Eagles, especially in the first few weeks of the season.

One of the major developments in the 1967 planning was Miller's decision last spring to go completely two-platoon and not prepare the squad both ways as he has done the past two years in spite of the predominant collegiate trend toward the two-platoon arrangement. Miller, who strongly opposes the two-platoon system, feels he has been forced to go along and figures that not specializing hurt his team last season, again especially in the first few games of the schedule. At any rate, B.C. should be sharper both ways much earlier in the 1967 schedule.

Look for a much improved Eagle passing game due essentially to more experience at quarterback and the end squad which came on strong at the latter part of 1966. Of course, a more threatening passing attack will help the running game, again headed by bruising fullback Brendan McCarthy and halfbacks Terry Erwin and Dave Bennett.

The Maroon and Gold defensive backfield will from the start be much stronger and more dependable with the return of four lettermen as opposed to but one a year ago.

The Eagle kicking game will be in good shape in the punting department with Captain Joe DiVito—the best punter at B.C. since before the War. The Eagles will be short, though, on experience in the place-kicking department where the graduation of both top men has left a gapping hole.

Senior end Jim Kavanagh from Providence, R.I. All-American track and field star who became the Eagle's leading receiver last year, with 7 of his 17 receptions coming in a sensational windup at the H.C. game.

Again in 1967, we will face the most attractive—and most difficult—schedule in New England. However, seven of the ten games on the schedule will be played in the cozy campus confines of Alumni Stadium, including those against the Eastern powerhouses—Army, Penn State, and Syracuse.

Starting Eagles backfield: I. to r. Terry Erwin, LHB; Brendan McCarthy, FB; Capt. Joe DiVito, QB; Dave Bennett, RHB.

SOPHOMORES TO WATCH

Sophomore Bob Bouley at 6'3", 235 lbs., has shown good speed and agility at his tackle slot and seems destined to win a starting berth. Son of famed Gil Bouley, '44, All-American of the '40s, Bob captained the football team at B.C. High as a senior and made most of the all-scholastic area teams.

Sophomore halfback Mike Johnson of El Paso, Texas. All-State at Austin High and Captain of the track team. Has great speed, making him a threat as a running back as well as receiver.

Murphy, Harold Jenkins, and Jack Buckley.

We regret to announce the deaths of classmates Rev. John J. Connolly and John "Lefty" Hooban. Fr. Connolly was pastor of St. John Vianney's Parish in Revere. "Lefty" Hooban will be remembered as one of '27's baseball stars. He was active in the civic affairs of his home town, Dedham.

Bill Ohrenberger, his children, and grandchildren were featured in a colored picture on the front page of the Boston Sunday Advertiser magazine on Sunday, June 18. In the accompanying story Bill was designated as "Father of the Year."

Bishop John W. Comber, M.M., Superior of the Maryknoll Order from 1956 to 1966, has been named pastor of Transfiguration Parish in New York's Chinatown by his successor, Rev. John J. McCormack, M.M.

Tom Feeley of Chicago spent 40 days in North Europe this summer. His extended tour included a visit to Moscow. Tom's daughter, Mary, is home after 5 years with the Eucharistic Missionaries of St. Dominic, New Orleans.

We extend our sympathy to Rev. James Magennis, Pastor of St. Patrick's Church, Groveland, on the death of his sister, Miss Anne Magennis.

Martin Tierney's daughter is a 1967 graduate of the University of Massachusetts.

Col. Leo Keefe (U.S.Army, Ret.) is happy that his wife, Margaret, is home and well after 4 months in the hospital. Leo's son, Major Leo Keefe, Jr., will visit his parents' St. Petersburg home after graduation from Command and General Staff College.

Rt. Rev. Joseph W. Sullivan was invested as Domestic Prelate by Bishop Jeremiah Minihan at St. James the Great Church, Wellesley, on Sunday, May 28. Many of Monsignor Sullivan's 1927 classmates were present at the reception following the investiture.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Waldron are the proud parents of twins, Michele and Monique Fallon. The members of our class are grateful to Father Walter Waldron, Jr., for saying the Memorial Mass. At the Mass Joe McKenney's grandson, young Master Hopkins, was the altar boy.

Pres. Francis X. Sullivan's daughter, "Jo" Sullivan, was elected Sophomore of the Year at Boston State College and is now listed in "Who's Who in American Colleges," a publication which lists outstanding students and leaders in 800 American colleges.

Bill McKillip of Laconia, New Hampshire has six grandchildren. Last summer he visited his daughter, Mary Ann and her husband and their three children in Teheran, Iran where Bill's son-in-law was sales manager for I.B.M. After a visit to Laconia the young family will depart for Istanbul, Turkey where the pere de famille will be Country Manager for his firm. Bill's younger daughter, Frances, is living in Brunswick, Maine, where her husband is a Professor of the Classics. On his tour last summer Bill enjoyed the attractions of Spain and Italy as well as those of the Middle East.

Joe Bruton's son is a physician in New York.

Frank Shea's son is a Junior at Holy Cross. Jim Cottier's son is a professor at Bucknell College.

Dr. Tim Lyons' daughter, Paula, was recently graduated from Newton College of the Sacred Heart.

Among traveling delegates to Alumni Week activities were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gannon of Long Island, N.Y., Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hurley from New Jersey, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Griffin from New York, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Burns from Albany, Walter Bowler from New Jersey, Joe Bruton and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Arthur Donovan, from New York, and Tom Dermody from Connecticut.

28 MAURICE J. DOWNEY 15 Dell Avenue, Hyde Park

Hearstest congratulations are in order for the two priest-members of our class who were recently made prelates of the Church with the title of Right Reverend Monsignor: Theodore J. Seckel, Pastor of St. Joseph's Church in Malden and William D. Thomson, Pastor of St. Francis Xavier Church in Hyannis. The Cape Cod newspapers, in announcing Monsignor Thomson's elevation, made particular mention of his outstanding ability as a pulpit orator.

John G. Morrill, General Manager of the Harvard Cooperative Society, familiarly known as the Harvard "Coop", was recently quoted in the financial pages of the Boston dailies in relation to the management structure of his organization.

Two of our classmates, the affectionately remembered Denny Manning and Art Edward F. O'Brien, each had a son ordained a Jesuit this past June. May both of these young priests have long and efficacious careers in the service of the Church.

Herb Stokinger, who for years turned out well-drilled football teams at Milton Academy, has decided to retire from active coaching. It will please his many friends and colleagues to know that he intends to continue as Athletic Director at the school.

Arthur Tuohy, a high ranking Air Force officer (Res) and a guidance specialist at Arlington High School, was called upon this summer by the federal government to employ his considerable skills and experience in the vital area of Manpower Development.

Looking, almost in vain, for the sight of the sun on Cape Cod last July were, among others, Mike Drumrey, Frank Murphy, the retired postal executive, and Dan Driscoll. When seen after Mass one Sunday, Mike was trying to get in touch with John Kelleher so they could play their annual golf match. I wonder if they ever got together and, if so, who gave strokes.

The above mention of Dan Driscoll reminds me that his namesake son received not only local but international attention for the Patriots Day celebration he staged in the remote Nigerian village where he is serving as a member of the Peace Corps. Dee, who comes by his organizing ability quite naturally, put on a well-attended field day complete with a parade, a sports carnival, native and modern entertainments, and, most likely, fireworks. The celebration was so unique and so successful that a national television network gave a comprehensive report on it.

Another member of our class, the universally esteemed Jack Ryder, was recently featured on a national television program. One of the networks decided to do a special on the death of a metropolitan daily and Jack, who by the way, retained his position in the merger, was asked to express his feelings which he did in a most forthright and articulate manner.

It is with deep regret that we report the death, in June, of our classmate Arthur L. Morrissey. Arthur who was retired and living in Florida, held the unchallenged distinction, and rightly so, of being Boston College's #1 sports rooster. When he was in this area he attended not only every Eagle sports event but, as time would allow, every single practice session. Come September, you can be sure, Arthur will be watching his beloved Eagles from a front row in the heavenly grandstand.

Jim Duffy's occupation is the making and selling of sports equipment and his avocation is the watching and playing of sports. On a mid-August Sunday he was seen rushing into Harvard Stadium just in time for the kickoff of the Patriots-Colts exhibition game. No doubt he had just come up from the links at Wollaston where, on occasion, he teams up with the master of the mashie, C. Owen Dooley. John McDevitt, Supreme Knight of the Knights of Columbus, was the Commencement speaker at The Catholic University.

This year we celebrate the fortieth anniversary of our graduation. Of the plans that are still in the alpha stage of development, more later.

29 TOM McGRATH Chestnut Street, Concord GEORGE DONALDSON 30 Blackman Road, Canton

If any of you are out Needham way, Ed Murray will be glad to see you at Glover Memorial Hospital, where he is cheerfully recovering from two broken legs.

1929 was well represented on Commencement Day on the stand and on the field. Very Rev. John Fitzgerald, C.S.P., Superior General of the Paulist Fathers, 86 Dromore Rd., Scarsdale, N.Y. 10584 became an honorary Doctor of the University while Fr. Leo O'Keefe, S.J., directed the Academic Procession and in those sonorous tones which we so well remember announced the dignitaries and the various schools, including Henry Leen, who graced the platform as Chairman of the Board. On the field were a number of sons and daughters of '29 including Charlie Bowser Jr., John Flynn (Dr. Bill's 3rd son), Gene McCarthy Jr., of Saxonville.

Leo Shea and Ed Glynn will find it difficult at the Villanova game, both having sons of Villanova. By the way if you are interested in Cape property or rental, Leo's new office is on the main street in Hyannis.

Whoever has been to Logan Airport lately can see what a great job Tom McGrath is doing. In fact he has been so busy, day and night, that I haven't been able to talk with him about our Annual Dinner at Alumni Hall in October. Please make a note and try to come. The years are flying.

Jim Riley's son Phil, West Point '66, now in the thick of things in Vietnam, was pictured in July 10th, Newsweek as one of the Volunteers for Vietnam. Jim says that the spirit of those boys is wonderful — real dedication. Jim himself has sold his business and is returning to teaching science in Rockland.

Joe and Rita Birmingham soon will be in the British Isles.

We regret to announce that Jack Hayes, formerly Alumni Secretary and recently of the Needham High School faculty died before the end of the school year. Please remember him and his family as well as other ailing classmates in your prayers. Please also send in some message to the class if it is only HELLO on a post card.

'30 JOHN F. DWYER
165 Blue Hills Parkway, Milton

Mr. and Mrs. John Haverty toured Ireland, England and Scotland on their vacation this summer.

On June 3rd James J. Reagan, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Reagan of Belmont, was graduated summa cum laude from Bentley School of Accounting. On June 10 James Jr. was married to Irene O'Brien, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick O'Brien, at St.

Aidan's Church in Brookline. He is now serving six months duty with the U.S. Army Reserve at Fort Ord, California. Upon his return he will be employed by Rittenhouse & Company, Certified Public Accountants.

On September 9th David M. Kelly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Kelly of Milton, was married to Susan Libby Bowles of Philadelphia, at the Holy Trinity Church in West Harwich. Reception followed at Wequassett Inn, East Harwich. Upon return from their honeymoon trip the newlyweds will reside in Cambridge, where David is a graduate student at Harvard School of Business Administration.

It's time for class dues again. Please mail two dollars or more to Arthur E. Lohan, class treasurer, at 87 Charlton Street, Newton, Mass., together with any news about you or members of your family.

'31 JOHN P. BARRY
370 Chestnut Hill Ave., Brookline

It was sad to learn of the passing of Jim Convey in July, and also of the death of John Carr Mullaney's mother. May their souls rest in peace.

Peter Fitzpatrick, son of Richard and Marion, married Roseann Black in Lexington this summer; he is president of the student body at B.C. Law School where he is a senior.

Recently had a pleasant phone chat with Fr. Emile Hemond, Pastor of St. Theresa's in Dracut.

'32 JOHN P. CONNOR
24 Crestwood Circle, Norwood

One of our most loyal and energetic classmates, Felix Albano, died unexpectedly last June. Phil leaves a wife, Mary, two sons, Vincent, studying at Immaculate Conception Seminary of Our Lady of the Most Holy Trinity Order in Kansas City, Mo. and Felix Jr. and a daughter Elizabeth. May he rest in peace.

Tom Connolly is happy to report that his son Brian is back home from Vietnam in good health after a tour of the seas of Vietnam with the U.S. Navy.

The prayers of the class are asked for the father of Ed Stewart, and the brother of Jerry Hern who recently passed away.

Rev. Paul U. Rattigan, curate at St. Paul's Parish, Dorchester, was appointed by Cardinal Cushing to the newly created clergy Personnel Board. John Connor's son, John Jr., was married Saturday, August 19, 1967, to Miss Judith Flanagan, Class of 1965 B.C. After a honeymoon in Bermuda they will make their home in Norwood. John Jr. is a graduate of A&S '65 and is now in his last year at B.C. Law School.

'33 PHILIP McNIFF
101 Waban Hill Ave., Chestnut Hill

Jim Connolly addressed the North End men at the Annual United Holy Name Societies' Breakfast speaking on the work of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, of which he is Director. The group has been organized by Fr. Wilfrid Bouvier, S.J.

Also active in civic affairs, Fr. Bouvier helped set up community participation in mental health benefits for the North End, West End and Beacon Hill parts of Boston, and was elected President of the newly-chartered Faneuil Chapter of the Mass. Ass'n. for Mental Health.

On June 11th, Fr. Bouvier celebrated his 25th anniversary of ordination at the noon Mass at St. Mary's Church, North End.

'34 REV. JOHN A. SAUNDERS
St. Agatha's Rectory
432 Adams St., Milton

Since our last issue several of our clerical classmates have been made pastors. Fr. John Fogarty is now Parish Priest at Saint John Vianney, Point of Pines, Revere. Fr. John Coquin is now the Pastor of Holy Trinity Parish on Shawmut Ave., South End, Boston. Fr. Frank Doherty's new address is Saint Francis Parish, Dracut, Mass. Fr. John Tierney, after many years as head of the Catholic Charitable Office, Salem, Mass., is now Parish Priest at the Immaculate Conception Parish, Cambridge. Msgr. Russell Davis is now pastor of Saint Catherine of Genoa Parish, Somerville. And your correspondent is now back in his "native land," pastor of Saints Peter and Paul Parish, South Boston. The class extends its prayer for Best Wishes to them all.

I am grateful to the class for their kindness at the time of my mother's death. Your prayers and sympathy will always be remembered by my family and myself. May God bless you for your goodness.

We mourn the passing of our classmate Dr. Walter O'Neil of New Bedford. Our sympathy goes to his wife Elizabeth, and to his children, Elizabeth, Walter and Margaret. May all our deceased classmates and parents rest in peace with Almighty God.

We can congratulate Dan Cronin on the extraordinary work he is doing as Head of the Boston Welfare Department. We are proud of his conduct in office and give to him our every confidence.

Lenahan O'Connell is still the outstanding booster for the "core city," Boston. Now that I have returned you can expect bigger and better things.

We congratulate Judge Artesani on his election to the Graduate Board of Athletics.

Ralph DiMatta is now the principal of the Bigelow School in South Boston. He was the first to welcome your correspondent back to the district. He put me to work at his Memorial Day exercises.

Some twenty six of the class attended our annual dinner at Alumni Hall on Wednesday, April 25. It was a pleasure to welcome to our gatherings after too long an absence, James Buckley and William Quinn. Jim is with the New Bedford School System and Bill is in the building construction business.

As is our custom each summer, the class "Brownies" met from time to time at the "Poor man's Miami." Seen this season at L St. were such faithfuls as Fr. Jack Fogarty, Frank Brow, Neal Holland, Bill Carr, Dan O'Keefe, Fr. Bill Noonan, Jim Sullivan. Frank Brow, however, had a short interlude at Puerto Rico.

Our best wishes are extended to Rt. Rev. John D. Day, Pastor of St. Mary of the Hills, Milton. "Dillon" was made a Monsignor last April.

The sincere condolences of the class are extended to Bob Huddy on the recent death of his father.

Others

It doesn't matter who you are,
Or what you have, or do.
If you give of your very best
The best returns to you.
A law of compensation works,
We get just what we earn,
If we love others with our hearts,
We get love in return.
The little things we sometimes do
For others day by day,
Return quite unexpectedly
In some peculiar way.

ARTHUR P. MURRAY '26

Assisting Dr. Jim McDonough, Alumni Leadership Gifts Chairman as associate chairmen are Milton Borenstein, Walter Sullivan and John Griffin.

Herb Kenny ('34) visited Dr. Joe Corcoran at his home in Albuquerque, New Mexico during the summer. Joe is the leading dermatologist in the area, and it is truly a spacious area.

As Ed Sullivan pointed out in his most clever letter to members of the class, we held our third annual celebration of our Thirtieth Anniversary in May at John Griffin's summer home in Eastham. An understatement would be to say that it was the usual unqualified success. Together with Ed and John and their wives were the following classmates and their faithful spouses: Frank Sullivan, Ed Forbes, Chick Featherstone, Tom Kelly, Gerry Cournoyer, Dan Holland, Dr. Jim McDonough, Henry Sheehan, Ray Belliveau, John Sheedy, Dr. Joe Riley and your correspondent. And the latter sincerely wishes you'd drop him a what's with you note.

'36 JOSEPH P. KEATING 24 High St., Natick

The sympathy and prayers of the class are offered for Fr. Dunston (Fran) Donovan, of the Graymoor Friars, Brockton, who died suddenly this summer.

Chris Iannella, Boston City Councillor, is a candidate for Mayor of Boston — and is considered to be one of the top possibilities for that job.

Steve Hart of Randolph has been appointed to the School Building Assistance Commission of the Massachusetts State Department of Education. Fred Roche now has his law offices located in the new 1 Center Plaza Building in Boston. Alan Boyce, living in Wellesley, is District Manager for Metropolitan Life Insurance Company in Randolph.

Both Msgr. Speed Carroll and Fr. Ambry Flynn celebrated their 25th anniversary of ordination this year, with the class of '36 well represented — Steve Hart, Jerry Burke, Al Esposito, Bill Jesolonia, Brendon Shea, Dr. Bill Colpoys, Chris Iannella among those in attendance. Still in regular attendance as the Catholic Alumni Sodality — after all these years — Steve Hart, Paul Flaherty, George Mahoney and Pat McCarthy.

Joe Keating transferred in June to Division Headquarters for Raytheon's Space and Information Division in Sudbury as Manager Contract Services for the Division.

Tom H. Mahoney received his Master of Public Administration from Harvard University at Commencement exercises in June.

'37 ANGELO M. DiMATTIA 82 Pershing Rd., Brighton

Our 30th Anniversary is now but a memory. What a nostalgic feeling for all of us as we realize that it has been 34 years since we actually entered our Alma Mater. All our Anniversary activities were well attended. The climax came on our week-end trip at the luxurious Belmont on the Cape. The food was fabulous. The weather was not so good, but we had a whale of a time. On the first night the Chairman Bill Doherty and his wife were present together with the Glynnns, Provalolis, Curtins, McDermotts, McGunnigles, O'Haras, Phillips, Saints, the DiMattias and the congenial Msgr. John Quirk. On Saturday, our numbers were increased by the Fords, Waldo Dembroski, the Ferdenzis, Finnegan's and the Higgins.

The Glynn's are proud grandparents. Teddy, Jr. has a baby girl. George Curtin is the proud recipient of many Insurance awards that were granted at Miami last April. It took our classmate, Dr. Freddie Ford who was with him to inform us of these extraordinary awards. Msgr. John Quirk was Captain of the winning golf team at our reunion. He, of course, was helped by George Curtin, Tom Saint, and ever faithful George McGunnigle. Of course, there were some gripes from the losers — Teddy Glynn, Dr. O'Hara, Tom McDermott and Bill Doherty. They claim there was some honest cheating, if that is possible.

Tilley Ferdzenzi and his gracious Keith arrived Saturday night and they want to be remembered to all the boys. He looks great. Ask Lucille Doherty why she likes the tune "Spanish Eyes." You should have seen Teddy Glynn with his Gerry's cape — he looked like the Bat-Man. Dr. Fred Ford is not only a terrific Doctor, but he has just discovered a terrific cure for Cadillac radiators. His remedy should be patented. The Fords have two lovely daughters, Mary and Connie. Anne Curtin bought a lovely antique outdoor lamp and George is still waiting for an electrician to install it. Tom Saint has a terrific philosophy, but I still don't fathom his relating a story that could only happen to the Saints — namely, how people can drink other people's liquid refreshments when they are gratis. His poor Mary has to be his personal secretary with their Travelers Check. They are planning a trip to Europe with their daughter, Bonnie. The McDermotts are still talking about their trip to Ireland. You should hear Joan relate the story of the old Sol. They are a gracious couple. Mary McGunnigle is quite a remedial specialist and she knows her stuff, take my word for it. I wish I had her at my school.

Bob Finnegan and his lovely better half arrived on Saturday and Bob took pictures of the wives doing the hilly gully. Some remarked that the wives were too experienced and looked too professional. They mentioned Miskeys. Can we see the pictures, Bob? Dr. O'Hara and his Mary had a wonderful time. However, it is impossible to keep up with Jack. Is it any wonder he is quite a surgeon and has an extensive practice in Athol and Gardner. He is always on the go. He is a skier and a fisherman at that. However, he does not relate those good fishy tales about the big ones that got away.

No one can keep up with our new College kids; a perfect specimen of such is Lucille Doherty and who can blame her. After all her years at B.C. she finally got her Bachelor's degree, magna cum laude. The Class is proud of her. She is looking forward to returning for a Master's degree. Bill, your troubles are just beginning. Remember, she may want an increase in her allowance.

John and Della Bonner have just returned from Mexico. You see, Della loves Bull fights so much that John has to bring her often. Msgr. John Quirk is an all American Monsignor. He said Mass for us on Sunday and he made sure that every one had a good time. He is terrific as we all know.

Of course, a special bouquet should be given to Bill and Lucille Doherty for arranging the whole get-together. The food, the prizes and the Bird pictures were all terrific. The Bird pictures, contributed by the McGunnigles for prizes were distributed to all present. I would like to see what Steve Higgins will do with his prize in a funeral parlor. His wife, Margie, was overwhelmed with joy.

Can anyone prove that a certain Asst. Dist. Attorney actually threw in a golf ball from the rough when his team was behind. We can never find out the final scores. We may have to sub-peona them to the Grand Jury. Is this possible, Ted? Let George and Mary McGunnigle from Hartford show you their portable Bar. They make excellent drinks, too.

It is also pleasing to announce that Jan Curtin has recently recovered from an extended illness and she is ready to continue her work. Dr. Fred Ford and his lovely wife, Rita, celebrated their Silver Jubilee of marriage bliss, and they are a devoted couple. The Doctor and Rita are planning to tour the world for the third time. They plan to visit Hawaii. The congenial Doc is still trying very hard to get the DiMattias on a plane.

Msgr. John Quirk has been assigned to active duty at a nearby port in Maine. He will leave for two weeks on July 30. I wonder if his dog, Tippy, will miss him. Talking about Monsignors — Did you see the Pilot — Msgr. Bob Sennot was shown in a photograph with all his flying priests ditched in the water with all their flying gear. Msgr. Bob, is that the way you intend to get us into Heaven. There must be an easier way.

Patrick's Church in Roxbury is recovering from a recent illness. He spent some time at his mother's cottage in Manomet. He is well liked in his new parish.

Jocko and Marguerite Conlon send their personal regrets for not being able to attend our week-end at the Belmont.

Your correspondent was the recipient of the McKenney Medal on Alumni Day. Present were many classmates. Among those who attended were the Clem Archers, their daughter and a friend.

Tillie Ferdenzi has suggested that the class arrange a trip to New York during the Fall on a week-end trip. Any comments?

I regret to announce the following deaths: Daniel Provasoli, father of Bob; Dr. John Curran, father of Marie Saint and the mother of Fr. Myer Tobey. Fr. Tobey lost both his parents in less than a year. He is planning to give up his Chaplain's post at the Baltimore State Penitentiary to start a Half-Way house for released prisoners in Maryland. This is devotion of the highest form. Fr. Tobey is an honorable and dedicated son of St. Ignatius.

A few of our classmates were able to attend a Month Mind Mass for Dan Provasoli, held at St. Joseph's Church in Boston, Mass. Msgr. John Quirk celebrated the Mass.

'38 THOMAS F. TRUE, JR.

37 Pomfret Street, West Roxbury

As most of us are no doubt aware, this school year marks the 30th Anniversary of our leaving the Heights. Also this year the class "babies" will be celebrating their 50th birthdays. Jim Dailey tells us that he and John Dromey, who have not quite reached that age, had thought that they were the youngest members of the class until Bob O'Connell informed them that his birthday was not until December. Any younger? The True family arranged for me to celebrate this occasion by making weekend reservations for us at Dan Barry's plush Belmont Hotel in West Harwich. Although the Belmont is famous for its excellent cuisine, daily schedule of entertainment and one of the most beautiful beaches on the Cape, my family added their own finishing touches — champagne served at the dinner table, the bill taken care of by them, etc. During our stay, my wife and I had a very pleasant meeting with Dan. The Barrys with their four children live a short distance from the Hotel. Late last spring, the class of '37, as part of their 30th celebration, spent a weekend at the Belmont. I asked Dan if we could make similar arrangements for our class. He said that he would be very pleased to have us as his guests. We would have to decide upon the dates fairly soon because he already has several groups booked for that time of the year. Pardon a personal note, but we'd like to thank Dan for his kindness in making our stay at the Belmont, and my 50th birthday, a most pleasant and memorable occasion.

NASA's Electron Research Center of Cambridge has announced the appointment of Henry A. Maffeo as Chief of the procurement branch.

John O'Neill commanding officer of Boston Naval Shipyard Marine Barracks and 1st Naval District Marine officer retired from active duty on May 31.

As for the program for our "30th," Dick Canavan is chairman. The Alumni Assn. has arranged several events in which we can participate with our own group—

First—a '38 tailgate party before the Buffalo Game—Saturday, Oct. 21. We will meet about noon in the parking area just behind Alumni Hall.

December 1, Friday—the Victory Festival Dance the night before the BC-HC game. We can reserve our own tables.

Sunday, March 24—Laetare Sunday Breakfast and the Alumni Weekend in June when arrangements can be made for couples to stay in the Dorms Friday and Saturday evenings.

In addition we plan a stag dinner in the fall, a Memorial Communion Breakfast and a "White Cliffs" or "Belmont" weekend. Our Anniversary Committee will have an organizational meeting in September to formalize plans for the year. When definite dates have been settled, a complete schedule will be mailed. As those who attended the events for our 25th know, we had several pleasant reunions then. Let's make our 30th even better.

'39 THOMAS F. TURNAN

Six Johnson Rd., Arlington

Our lead item this issue, though hardly news, bears up well under repetition. Congratulations to Dr. Al Branc on his election as President of the Alumni Association, and best wishes for continuing success in yet another important office! An added attraction of Alumni Day, beyond the Branca ascendancy, was the discreetly-short-of-boisterous reunion of John L. Sullivan and Fr. Frank Sullivan who somehow couldn't buy John's involved saga of multiple blow-outs en route from Old Mystic, Conn., to Chestnut Hill.

Since we are pairing entries we add that Donovan, John D., returned recently from the International Congress of the Sociology of Religion, in Montreal, where he read his paper on "The Dilemma of the Christian Priesthood." This is also the subject of another book he is writing. Donovan, William L., continues with the Intelligence Division of the Internal Revenue Service. Bill is living in Scituate, Mass., has six children of which three attend Archbishop Williams High School. At selected intervals he is addressed as Captain, as in Supply Corps, U.S. Naval Reserve.

The roster of officials at Fitchburg State

College has been modified to show that Joseph F. X. Durant, Ph.D. Ed., is the Dean of Students. Joe lives in Hudson, Mass., has two children the elder of which, Mary Claire, is a senior at Emmanuel. Joseph J., is in grammar school.

Tom Turnan, in the course of his activities in the Elections Division of the office of Secretary of State Kevin H. White, discovered that Joe McCarthy is researching background for a new book, this one a socio-political history of Boston, Massachusetts and New England to be published by Time-Life Books Div., of Time, Inc.

A transcript of the proceedings of the Award Dinner of the B.C. Club of Washington, honoring speaker of the House John W. McCormack, disclosed that the Toastmaster there-at, Bob Griffin, is "one of the most able congressional men in Washington." Bob is Assistant Administrator of the General Services Administration, the Government's massive housekeeping, supply and custodial organization. All of which, he allows, is but the logical extension of expertise accruing from his domestic specialty — girls. He has three; Mary Catherine, 6, Christiane, 3 and Justine, 1,666 yrs. Also on hand for the Award Dinner was Chicago-based Jim McGuire, Operations V-P of Canteen Corp.

The Class Correspondent, no alarmist, points out that 5-cent stamps may be going out of style. Use the ones on hand to keep him abreast of your current activities.

'40 JAMES M. KEAN

15 Sanderson Place, Brighton

Haughty '40! And why not? The class membership now includes one of the officers of the college. Tom Cudmore was recently appointed a Vice-President here at Boston College. The position, newly created, gives Tom the distinction of being the first layman to serve as a member of the college hierarchy. Congratulations, and best wishes, Tom.

With the expanded TV coverage, and because of the interest generated by the tight pennant race in the American League this baseball season, we had many opportunities to see John Flaherty in action here at Fenway Park, and then when the Red Sox travelled throughout the circuit. Maynard John, silver thatched now, but still answering to the name 'Red', is one of the outstanding umpires in the league, and has been for many seasons. Put a touch of red in the mane, and in appearance he is the same old Redhead who starred in football and baseball, first at B.C. High, and later here at the college.

Col. Gerald F. Russell, USMC, CO Marine Corps Barracks, Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. That was the address until recently when a change in orders brought Gerry back to duty at Marine Corps Headquarters, Washington, D.C. Always shy and retiring as an undergrad, a guy who let his flying track spikes build his reputation, Gerry still follows the same pattern. News of his current activity comes from Fred Robertie who hasn't lost his talent as a former Heights newshawk. Fred came across the news in a service magazine. Won't tell you about the snap that accompanied the release, but as of this moment I'm taking back the crown I gave to Jack Morrissey as leader of the youth movement in the class.

Mention the name Robertie, Arthur Joyce, and Charlie Thornton both will be pleased to know that Fred is living in New York city. He is associated with the Moller Steamship Company in an executive position. Fred's office is on Broad St., New York. Thanks again for the nice letter, Fred. Now, if we only knew where the brothers Joyce and Thornton are. News about Fred's family? Got none because I only heard about his position from some other guy who heard about him. Talk about a class of guys who hear about other guys, but clam up regarding themselves. We're tops. If it hadn't been for Bill Joy's friend, Knick Knack Murphy, we would never have heard about Bill Griffin's advancement to a top position in the US Customs Service, with an office in New York, and a responsibility that stretches the length of the Atlantic Coast.

Speaking of men with drive, we have to include Henry Desmond and Bob McGovern in the list. Bob, as Class Treasurer, is spearheading a drive to replenish the treasury. First returns are very encouraging. Come to think of it, I don't recall seeing your name in the list of paid-up members. In case you have lost Bob's address, you may send your dues to him at 11 Arborview Road, Jamaica Plain 02130.

Squire Desmond's drive is in a class by itself. Again his news comes indirectly. This time the source is the sports page of a South Shore daily newspaper. Playing at the Marshfield Country Club while representing his home town Hatherly C.C. Henry hit the green with his tee shot on the 13th hole. Nothing to brag about if you forget to mention that this same hole is 360 yards long with a par 4. Should I spoil it by saying that he two putted for a birdie? Watch our Pat Raftery, Tom Powers, Frank Burns, and the McCarthys. Or better still, look to your laurels.

Nice to see Fr. Cyril Toland back on the go again. This time it was celebrating Mass for the children at St. Coletta's School in Hanover. My spies tell me that Cy is stationed at St. Peter's in Dorchester. Anchor man for a clerical trio that makes a yearly command performance on Thanksgiving Day at a local entertainment palace, Father Cy had to forego the concert tour while he did battle with physical ailments.

Harry Ringer is with the Purchasing division of Raytheon at its Norwood site. Harry now makes his home in Belmont with his wife and daughter Amy.

Still from guys who heard about other guys, John Gosselin is associated with Maryland Casualty Company in its Boston office. John is an attorney and Claims manager.

Also in the news, Henry Gately who holds forth as Chief Probation Officer for the District Court of Southern Essex County. When not at the courthouse, Henry lives with his wife Catherine and two girls in Lynn.

Don't know the schedule of events planned for this year, but I do know that Homecoming Day is set for the Buffalo game. Hope to see you there.

'41 EDWARD J. BURKE
20 Ravenswood Rd., Waltham

The Class extends its sincere appreciation and gratitude to Henry J. Sheehan who is relinquishing his duties as our correspondent for Alumni News. Best wishes to you and yours, "Hank"!

Classmates attending the memorable Boston College Downtown Club Founders' Dinner in the capacity-filled ballroom of the Sheraton-Plaza Hotel included Msgr. John Kinchla, Nick Sottile, Larry Connors, Bill Maguire, and Ed Burke . . . Our beloved Cardinal Cushing was given the first honorary life membership in the recently organized B.C. Downtown Club . . . This alumni facility is expected to be ready by the fall of 1968 . . . It will be located in the new Government Center, and your membership is welcomed.

Feature speaker for the Record American-Sunday Advertiser's annual banquet in honor of the current crop of All-Scholastic baseball stars was Msgr. George Kerr who himself had won recognition as an outstanding student-athlete in his high school days at St. Mary's of Brookline, Mass. . . . The theme of his impressive talk was that a person's determination to succeed is more important to his development as a man than the actual achievement of success . . . Vallee's Steak House in Newton provided all the trimmings for a delightful meal . . . Speaking of baseball stars, Bill Garrity's son and namesake, an Our Lady's of Newton 1966 Student-Athlete Award winner, performed exceptionally well while pitching for the B.C. Freshman nine.

Pope Paul VI recently elevated two members of our class to the rank of Domestic Prelate with the title of Right Reverend Monsignor, namely, Msgr. Vincent Jakul, Director of the Catholic Charitable Bureau in Lowell, Mass., and Msgr. John Abucewicz, Naval Chaplain . . . Our congratulations to both! . . . Msgr. Abucewicz entered the Navy in 1949 and was, until recently, a chaplain on duty in Taiwan, Formosa, holding the rank of Commander; he has returned from duty in the Far East to the Catholic Chaplain's Office, Naval Air Station, Jacksonville, Fla. . . . While Bishop John J. Wright of Pittsburgh was in Taipei to deliver the address at the first Commencement of Fu Jen National Catholic University, he presided over the investiture of Msgr. Abucewicz who was a member of the Bishop's first class at St. John's Seminary, Brighton, Mass., with Fr. (Lt. Col.) J. Joseph Murphy, Chaplain, U.S. Army; he celebrated Mass with the two prelates.

At the last annual Alumni Day Golf Tournament staged at the Pleasant Valley Country Club in Sutton, Mass., Nick Sottile, Dick Daley, Arthur "Ike" Jones, and Bill Maguire all tried to break par, and they almost succeeded! They had a wonderful time and hope more classmates join the fun next year . . . In the event you don't know, Joe Manzo, former Sugar Bowl football co-captain, is rated one of the top-flight golfers in the class . . . Joe Vaughan, now residing on the West Coast, is a frequent visitor to the lush fairways there. Needless to say, Joe turns in a creditable performance for 18 holes of golf . . . Are there others about whom we haven't heard? . . . One conclusion that can be drawn from the match play of our golf enthusiasts this year is that the single men were able to register lower scores than the married men, even though the bachelors hit a half dozen balls into the rough.

Among those of the Class present at Alumni Week End of 1967 were Msgr. Thomas Finnegan, Harry Boltz from New York, Ed Burke, and Paul Anthony Reardon from Chicago. Paul, the father of six children, is an Independent Tax Consultant and was recently admitted to practice before the United States Tax Court. At McElroy Commodity he enshrined himself, by his amusing antics, in the hearts of the Anniversary Class of 1942, and even the Class of 1940. When he met Paul Reardon of Topsfield, Mass. Class of 1952, Paul of '41 and Paul of '52, to the delight of bystanders, were obliged to exchange identification papers to make sure that they were not kidding each other.

Congratulations from the Class to Wally Boudreau for his friendship and help as Executive Secretary of the Alumni Association for the past ten years! Wally will take over the position of Director of Alumni Placement.

Bob Rados, Project Manager, TIROS (Weather Satellite System), reports from his Washington, D.C., residence that he went to Spain to give a paper at the XVII International Astronautic Congress. Then he took off for a month of vacationing to see Italy, Yugoslavia, Austria, and Germany; he managed to visit his ancestor's home and met three cousins. It is interesting to note that Bob was in Florence during the flood and called it "a real disaster." On one occasion he was obliged to climb a 20 foot wall to reach dry ground . . . Fran Bellew of Mystic, Ct., is with the Electric Boat Company; his son Peter graduated from Xaverian Brothers High School in Westwood, Mass., in June, and is now enrolled at Boston College School of Education; his daughter Patricia graduated from B.C. in June of '66 and in January of '67 married a classmate, Richard O'Leary of Jamaica Plain, a 2nd Lt. in the Marines who trained at Camp Lejeune, N.C., and headed for Vietnam this past June . . . Dr. George McManama's brother, Dr. John McManama, was elected President of the Medical Staff at St. Elizabeth's Hospital of Boston . . . George's daughter Mary Beth, a recent graduate of Elmira College, married Paul Crabtree of Belmont, Mass., on June 17th. The groom attends Cornell Graduate School of Business . . . Fran Blouin's son Francis, Jr., graduated in June from the University of Notre Dame, South Bend, Ind. . . . Harry Boltz, Air Traffic Controller in charge of the Rome, N.Y., and Utica, N.Y., offices of the Federal Aviation Agency, located at Griffiss AFB, Rome, N.Y., is the father of six children. One of his lovely daughters, Harry reports, has entered the convent . . . Ike Jones' son "Mike," a three-sport player and class officer at Weston High (Mass.) was elected baseball captain for next season. "Mike" plans on a college education in the engineering field; his sister "Ruthie" was a Dean's List student in her freshman year at the University of New Hampshire . . . Joe Vaughan and his wife spent a couple of weeks in the Bay State this summer, vacating at Cape Cod and visiting the Hank Sheehans of Newton . . . It was a great joy for Ed Burke and his wife, Kay, to be able to participate in the Silver Anniversary Mass last June 13 celebrating the Ordination of Fr. Harry W. Ball, S.J., at St. Mark's Church, Dorchester, Mass., and the After-Mass Reception in St. Mark's School Hall, crowded with numerous well-wishers. Fr. Harry taught Freshman Math, as a scholastic while we were collegians at the Heights. Presently, he is in Jamaica, B.W.I., as a missionary and would welcome your moral and financial support anytime . . . Dr. Harry Fulchino, obstetrician and gynecologist with an office in Randolph, Mass., is to be praised for his historical-mindedness and for so neatly preserving all the records and many fine testimonials of our scintillating Silver Jubilee Mardi Gras Festival, records which, by the way, he voluntarily forwarded to your correspondent for posterity . . . In this regard, Bob Rados also deserves heaps of praise for having sent many newspaper clippings and all past Alumni News reports of the Class of '41 for utilization in our Silver Anniversary Report . . . Our deepest gratitude is extended to them . . . Nick Sottile is likewise to be complimented for calling attention to some progressive steps currently being made by our forward-looking classmates. Nick is an enthusiastic B.C. sports fan and rarely misses a contest; he is affiliated with Coleman and Sons, Realtors, located in Waltham, Mass. . . Fr. (Lt. Col.) Francis J. Dolan was selected to attend the Army's senior educational school, the Army War College, Carlisle Barracks, Pa., in August, for a ten-month course. His previous assignment was Instructor and Deputy Director of Resident Instruction at the U.S. Army Chaplain School, Fort Hamilton, N.Y. We can feel very proud of Fr. Dolan's selection as one of 160 officers chosen for the course, designed to prepare officers for command and high level duties. His fellow officers are, indeed, fortunate in having such an experienced chaplain among them, and the only chaplain so chosen . . . Lenny Frisoli's son, Leonard M., Jr., a graduate of Boston College and its law school, was married in July to Miss Virginia Conway, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew F. Conway of Needham, Mass., a graduate of Emmanuel College, and a teacher in Braintree . . . Assisting Cardinal Cushing at the christening of Patrick Joseph Kennedy in St. Francis Xavier Church, Hyannis, were Rt. Rev. Joseph Maguire, B.C. '41, and Rt. Rev. William D. Thomson, pastor of St. Francis. Patrick Joseph is the son of Senator and Mrs. Edward M. Kennedy . . . A most welcomed visitor to Ed Burke's home this summer was Sister M. Brendan, hospital administrator from Houston, Texas, who is celebrating her 25th anniversary as a member of the order of the Sisters of Charity of the Incarnate Word. Sister Brendan is Ed's wife's sister. Kay Burke attended B.C. recently and was presented a certificate by Fr. W. Seavey Joyce, S.J., for having successfully completed a course in the Massachusetts Municipal Training Institute . . . Dr. Ernest Blaustein, B.C. '41, is a professor in Boston University's Dept. of Biology. Currently he is assisting young students engaged in cancer research; he hopes to interest them in making such research a lifetime work. Our best wishes to you, Dr. Blaustein, in such a worthwhile endeavor! . . . More than 100,000 Rosaries were sent to the military forces in Vietnam through the Catholic Servicemen's Bureau under the care of Msgr. John Kinchla, a former chaplain and a decorated Korean War hero. According to an authentic report from Vietnam, men of all religious denominations and no religious preference love the Rosary, wear the Rosary, and seek Our Lady's protection.

In an exhibition pro football game at Bridgeport, Ct., in early August, between the Boston Patriots and the New York Jets, halfback Emerson Boozer of the Jets turned in a stunning performance and earned for himself the Al Lukachik Memorial Bowl as the game's Most Valuable Player. Al, a great sportsman and a fine gentleman, who died this past year, played for B.C. in the Cotton and Sugar Bowl games. No wearer of the Maroon and Gold should be unmindful of Al's wonderful interest in active sports' promotion for the youth of Bridgeport. At the time of his death, Al was writing a book on sports in his native state. His wife and son Scott have the sincere sympathy of the Class in their great loss, and ours as well!

Two out-of-state B.C. Clubs are capably directed by our classmates. In Northeastern New York, Dr. George Tully of Albany, as personable as ever, is at the helm; in Florida, George L. Murphy, Jr., of Miami, is making his leadership felt . . . Msgr. George Kerr, former All-American guard and Sugar Bowl immortal, served on the game committee as the game director for the fourth annual ecumenical football contest on August 13 at Harvard Stadium between the perennially powerful Baltimore Colts and the Boston Patriots.

The sympathy of the Class is also extended to the family of Chet Gladchuck, our All-American, who died September 3 after a long illness.

The Class also extends its condolences to Dr. George McNamea (and family) upon the death of his brother-in-law, Dr. Samuel A. Cohn, who was team physician for many generations of Waltham High School athletes, community leader, and a physician beloved by thousands of Waltham families in nearly forty years as a general practitioner and surgeon.

In bringing the current class news to a close, your new correspondent, Ed Burke, wishes to thank all the members of the Class who contributed data or rendered any assistance whatsoever for the Silver Jubilee Report that was his great pleasure to edit. Your continued support in forwarding brief news items to Ed, residing at 20 Ravenswood Road, Waltham, Mass. 02154, will be appreciated by all.

Congratulations to Jim Stanton on his election as First Vice-President of the Alumni Association.

The Class is deeply indebted to Paul Maguire for his excellent direction of our Silver Jubilee Year. In addition, we unanimously give a vote of thanks to: Dick Ferriter as Chairman of the Stag Dinner; Leo Strumski for the Champagne & Hot Dogs on Family Day; Ambry Claus as the Chairman of the Harvest Victory Dance; Joe Marcantonio who arranged for and, with his charming wife, hosted the Wine Tasting Party; Tom Hinchee, Laetare Sunday Chairman; Ed Keyes as Chairman of the Golf Tournament; and, John Gibbons, who led us through a wonderful Alumni Weekend.

I suggest that the Class authorize the purchase of a small memento for each of the above in appreciation of their efforts. You may do this by dropping me a line (phone call will suffice) indicating your approval or disapproval. The result will be published in the next issue of the News.

The Golf Tournament, held May 12th in the plush surroundings of the Pleasant Valley Golf Course, saw all entries from the Class of 1942 win prizes. Those involved were: Rev. Bill Flynn, 80; Bob Attridge, 82; Butch Kissel and Charlie Sullivan, 90; Jim Stanton, 92; Jim Reilly, 93; Frank Murphy, 98; Ed Keyes, 99. Others, whose scores ranged from 105 through 132, listed alphabetically, were: Ambry Claus, Frank Dever, Dick Ferriter, Phil Gill, Paul Maguire, and yours truly.

Alumni Weekend proved to be a tremendous success and a glorious weekend for those who attended.

For those who were unable to interpret it, John Gibbons wants it explained that the date of the Class Cocktail Party (free) announced in his last letter, was Friday, June 2, 1967. In spite of whatever confusion the said letter might have created, the Party was very well attended.

On Saturday, June 3rd, the alumni cheers were loud and clear as the underdog '42 Team of Capt. Paul Maguire, Connie Pappas-Jameson, Terry Geoghan, and Tom Hinchee amassed a score of 310 points, while the highly touted, heavily favored undergraduate team was awarded 205 points in the College Bowl Competition. Witnesses to this glorious victory were: John Gibbons, Howie Murray, Charlie Ahern, Dick Ferriter, Charlie Donevan, Des Cronin, Joe Marcantonio, Tom Lane, big Ed McDonald, Dave O'Keefe, Fred Seeley, Fr. Dan Barrett, Frank Murphy, Gerry McMorrow, Tom McDonald, Dick Stiles, Dave Cavan, Bill Powers, Joe Sullivan, Msgr. Paul Harrington, Chuck Holder, Rev. Dick Costello, S.J., Rev. Bob Drinan, S.J., Jerry Joyce, Frank Dever, Ar Blaisdell, Jim McAvoy, Joe Miller, Butch Kissel, Dick Callahan (down from Manila sans ux), Frank Mahoney, Joe Stanton, Frank Colpoys, Joe Fitzpatrick (cross country from California with wife and children), Rev. Frank Nicholson, S.J., Jim Stanton, and yours truly.

Others who were present for one or more of the exciting events of the weekend were: Jim Boudreau, Charlie Sullivan, Dick Grainer, Leo Strumski, Al Morin, Ned Martin, Dick Keating, Ted Mulvehill, Ambry Claus, Frank McCue, Gerry O'Leary, Bob Muse, Tony Graffeo, Tom Russell, Brian Sullivan, Harry Nash, Frank Driscoll, Bob Harris, Bill Kane, Ed Keyes, John Paul Regan, Joe Elliott, Louis Kuc, Jim Cahalane, Paul Carlin, Frank D'Ambrosio, Joe Lavoie, Jim O'Brien, Bill Cadigan, John C. Fitzgerald (formally identified to distinguish him from his other namesakes), Bill Duggan, Clem Hasenfus, John Mitchell, Joe Donovan and John Butler. The Baccalaureate Mass, on Sunday, June 4th, was concelebrated by Msgr. Paul Harrington, Msgr. John Lawlor (who is congratulated on his recent elevation), Rev. Frank Nicholson, S.J., Rev. Tony Cintolo,

Rev. Bob Gallagher, Rev. John Kelley, Rev. Sam Lombard, and Rev. John Dewire, Rev. Bob Drinan, S.J., delivered the homily.

The entire weekend was, I'm certain, enjoyed by our wives as much as by us. There was rarely a dull moment and always plenty of sincere congeniality.

Congratulations to Jim Reilly on the wedding of his son, and to Bob Attridge on the graduation of a son from Georgetown. Both events coincided with our Alumni Weekend. Joe Dever's absence from the festivities of Alumni Weekend, perhaps the first time since 1945, was caused by a business trip to Greece (June 1-15) on behalf of the National Hellenic American Lines.

Alumni Weekend 1967, perfect as it was, was gloriously climaxed by the Graduation Exercises held on Monday, June 5th.

Chief Marshalls Joe and Jim Stanton were capably assisted by Art Blaisdell, Jim Cahalane, Amby Claus, Frank Colpoys, Frank Dever, Frank Driscoll, Dick Ferriter, Terry Geoghan, Tom Hinckley, Dave Keefe, Joe Kelly, Butch Kissell, Ed McDonald, Tom McDonald, Gerry McMorrow, Paul Maguire, Joe Miller, Bob Muse, Leo Strumsky and yours truly.

Correct me if I'm wrong — Frank Dever takes the prize as the first Grandfather in the Class. Congratulations. The prize will be publicly awarded at our Golden Jubilee Weekend.

Louis Kuc and Margaret Buckley were joined in Holy Matrimony on July 5th. The Class wishes them many years of happiness.

I am very proud and pleased to announce that my daughter Nancy is a Freshman in the School of Nursing. Also beaming with pride and pleasure are: Charlie Donovan on the acceptance of his daughter Kathy to the same school; and, Paul Maguire, whose son Tommy is following his father's footsteps in the School of Arts & Sciences.

I have not intentionally omitted anyone from the above lists. Your cooperation and assistance is urgently needed in the writing of this column. We'd all like to know about one another. Please use me as the means of dispersing this information.

James Cahalane was recently promoted to chief of the NASA's Electronic Research Center administrative support division.

The Class offers its sincerest sympathies to Jim whose brother John died suddenly on August 11th.

Now, some notes gleaned from here and there: Congratulations are in order: to Joe Dinneen who was named the winner of the Boston Press Club's Eliot Award for the best feature story of 1966. The story appeared in Joe's column "Across the City Desk" in the Boston Globe . . . to Jim (CBA) Connolly, who becomes the first grandfather of the CBA grads. Jim's daughter Donna enters Emmanuel this fall, while Jim, Jr. has been assigned to Vietnam by the Marine Corps

. . . to Aurelius Mattera, who has been named Assistant Superintendent of Schools in Revere . . . to Irving Russell, named Chairman of the Chemistry Dept. at the Heights . . . to Col. Joe Tyndall, who received his master's degree in International Affairs from George Washington's University's program at the Air University, Maxwell Field, Alabama. Joe is now assigned as weather staff office, Tan Son Nhut AFB, Vietnam . . . and finally to Wally Boudreau on his appointment as Assistant Director of Placement. Wally will be directly concerned with Alumni placement and will maintain his office in Alumni Hall, where all the functions of the Placement Bureau are now located.

The condolences of the Class are extended to the family of Angelo Bergamasco, who died in May , , , enjoying a family reunion at Osterville this summer was John Logue . . . seen supervising some Hull Yacht Club races was Joe Tympany . . . From some of the '43 biography sheets received to date, we've picked up these news items: Walter Cassell's son David is studying at St. Joseph's College, Indiana . . . Joe Clayton observes his 18th year with the Bendix Corp. where he is now Assistant General Manager of the Aerospace Systems Division in Ann Arbor . . . Stan Davis, whose son Gregg is a freshman at Emory University is the Associate Comptroller at Yale University . . . Jim Dunn is now the Financial and Business consultant to the Roman Catholic Archbishop of Boston. Jim Jr., who graduated from Roxbury Latin School enters Harvard this fall . . . In addition to his position as General Manager of Britannic Motors, Ltd., Vin Forte is also Managing Editor of the Sons of Italy magazine. Vin's oldest son Joseph is presently a Junior at Harvard . . . Bill Gallagher is currently Manager of Communications Services with Arthur D. Little Co.

Now living in Milwaukee, Ed Greenlaw is Assistant Zone Manager, Chevrolet Division of General Motors. Son Peter is a senior at the University of Colorado and son Patrick is a freshman at the University of Wisconsin . . . Fr. Tom Heath, O.P. is Professor of Moral Theology at the Dominican House of Studies, Washington and says that he plans to make some of our 25th anniversary events this year . . . A native of Port Bannatyne, Scotland, Jack McElwee, now Vice President of John Hancock Insurance Co. is looking forward to seeing the "remains of '43" this year . . . Ed McGilvry, who is Chairman of the Stag Dinner reports that daughter Judy will graduate from B.C.'s School of Education in June and that son Ed enters that institution in Worcester in September . . .

Bernie O'Neil, Supervisor of Reader Services at the Boston Public Library has daughter Marie a junior at Radcliffe, while son Bernard J. III graduated from Harvard in June . . . If he makes any of our 25th year events, Ed O'Sullivan will no doubt get the prize as the one who came the greatest distance. Ed is now the Middle East/African representative of the Lummus Company, an engineering and construction firm. Ed's oldest son Robert is now a junior at the University of California . . . Any men of '43 planning to go to Moscow should drop in to see Yale Richmond, stationed at the American Embassy as Cultural Exchange Officer . . . Classmates who attend any hockey or basketball games this season note the new American flags hanging in Roberts and McHugh; they are the 25th anniversary gift of the Class of '43 . . . One final note for now: don't forget: the STAG DINNER, September 29th, your Biography sheet, the BERMUDA TRIP and your Class Dues . . . see you all soon!!

Fred Nedvina is now N.E. representative for Noble & Noble, publishers of Textbooks for elementary and high schools.

The 20th reunion gave us a chance to see many faces we hadn't seen for many years. It was remarkable how much younger our group appeared compared to the others including all the younger anniversary classes.

Fr. Mark Carr was among those present and reports he is attached as chaplain at the Shattuck Hospital. It has been reported to us that our resident intellectual for our four year stay at the college, Ed Naughton, has had his first book published. He has been living and working in Paris for some time in newspaper work and found time to write his book as well.

Frank Fleming and Paul Moynihan are still to be seen around the campus, Frank pursuing studies for a graduate degree while Paul is to be found in the library as a member of the staff there. Frank in the meantime continues to lead his bachelor life, trailering his boat to whatever shoreline strikes his fancy at a given moment.

They tell us that Dick McNealey can be found catering to the real estate desires of all corners on Cape Cod now.

Paul Malloy is living in New Jersey now, is associated with Humble Oil. Fred Farrey and Ben Byron are indispensable to their communities as teachers. George Burke who always ran away with the Rogers Peet advertising competitions while at college continues to be a very successful word merchant as a creative writer with Culver Advertising here in Boston.

Fred D'errico and Lou Sammartino arrived in tandem at the reunion, Lou continues to be successful in the jewelry business in Providence.

Congratulations to Jack Harvey on teaming with a member-partner to capture the Winchester Country Club member-guest golf tournament. Understand the champagne flowed after that one.

Charlie Metcalf is Supervisor of correspondence at the Keystone Custodian Fund and helping the nursing shortage in the person of daughter Gail who has just started training.

This June marks the twentieth year since our graduation. Hopefully, I, along with many others, will get the opportunity to meet you at some of the Anniversary Class festivities. In the meantime, drop a note to me about some recent happening in your life.

Joseph Habington of Belmont, father of 9 children, is a sales representative for Jantzen. John Hart of Lawrence has 7 children. John operates a funeral home in that city and recently served most successfully as Chairman of the United Fund in Lawrence. John J. Kelley, Jr., is still successfully operating a few Howard Johnson establishments. John lives in Wellesley Hills and also has 7 children. Bill Kickham is New England Manager for The Wackenut Corp., and lives with wife Rosemary and 3 children in Brookline. John Lahive is a partner in the law firm of Weingarten, Orenbuch & Lahive. John received his LLB in '59 from B.C. John lives in Hingham and has six children, ages 2-11. John and I used to ride to school in Frank Harvey's Plymouth. John always complained that the heater wasn't working. Keeping warm these days, John? Larry O'Brien also received his LLB and is a partner in the accounting firm Lawrence P. Harrington & Co. Larry lives in Arlington and has two boys at B.C. High. Tom Phair is a Social Work Supervisor in the city of Revere in which he lives. Bill Rotondi is an Associate Professor of Psychology and Education at Assumption College in Worcester. He is also Coordinator of Guidance and Counseling services and Director of Teacher Preparation. Bill lives in Dedham and has 4 children. Bill Sipsey is Grammar Master for the Lawrence School Department. Bill has received several federal grants for further study beyond the M.A. and M.Ed. Bill's wife, Dorothy, teaches in the Lawrence school system and has also received federal grants. Dave Williams is a civil engineer for the Public Works Department. Dave has also studied at Lowell Tech. and M.I.T. Living in Winthrop, he has a family of 2 boys and 2 girls.

Let's hear from some of those who have never dropped me a line. John Muse, are you still in Portland? Al Silver, whence from Alexandria?

dance during Alumni Weekend.

The Bob Gaughans, Tom F. O'Keeffes, Bill Gauthiers and Jim Mulrooneys stayed in the Dorms for Alumni Weekend. Bob is a physician in Fairfax, Va., where he is in practice with another classmate Ray Cote. Bob has 5 children. Tom is living in Hingham and is with the Boston Edison Company as Director of Customer Relations. Tom and wife Fran now have 9 children. Bob Gauthier and his wife "Dusty" have 2 children. Bill is the general manager of Capitol City Machine Company and is living at 119 Fountain St., Springfield, Mass.

Bill Fandel and wife had number 4, their first boy.

Justin "Ducky" Power is a parole agent for the division of Youth Service of Massachusetts. Justin and family are living in Roslindale.

Dave Sullivan, who had been living in Illinois, has recently moved to Atlanta, Ga. Dave is now Vice Pres. and General Manager of the Norris Candy Co. which is headquartered in Atlanta. Norris is a wholly owned company of the New England Confectionery Company of Cambridge, Mass.

Tom Cullinan is now Division Controller of Sylvania Lighting Products Division.

Frank Hennessy moved to Carlisle, Mass. in June and is in the Real Estate and Insurance business in Bedford. Frank and wife have 4 children.

Gabriel DiLorenzo is living in Medford and has 5 children. Gabe is with M. H. Gerrits & Co. who are clerical tailors and outfitters and are located in the Blake Building at 501 Washington St., Boston and Gabe invites all to visit him during the Summer at Humarock Beach.

Larry "E" Sullivan has one daughter, and is the Corporate Controller of the Royal Metal Company in Worcester.

Charlie and Rose Hanifan are living in Burlington, Mass. with their 7 children. Charlie is now with State Street Bank of Boston in Computer Operations.

Ed and Vilma Puglisi are living in Springfield, Mass. where Ed is with the 3M Company. Ed challenges any and all comers in a golf match. Ed has a 9 handicap.

Joe Chisholm was up from Garden City, L.I. where he is in his 14th year with Solomon Bros. & Hutzler in New York City. Joe is an institutional securities salesman and has done some settling since I visited him a few years back (prior to marital bliss) in his bachelor quarters in New York City. The Chisholms have three daughters.

Jim Callahan was really moving around the dance floor with his wife, the former Carol Doonee class of '52 from Emmanuel. Jim has his own placement service called New England Staffing Associates which is located at 120 Boylston Street in Boston. The Callahans have three boys and one girl and are living in Swampscott.

Also present from Swampscott was Frank "Pete" Cassidy. Pete is in the Real Estate and Insurance Business in Swampscott where he is also a Selectman.

Charlie Delorio is an alderman in Chelsea, Mass. and is with the Gulf Oil Company.

Also engaged in the noble profession of politics is Bob Quinn. Bob is the Majority Leader of the Mass. House of Representatives and I saw him recently in his Dorchester District campaigning with Senator Steve Davenport who is a candidate for Mayor of Boston.

John Fitzgerald is a sales representative for Pet Inc. and is living in Framingham. John and his wife are very proud parents of a little girl.

Lenny Hardy is living in Dorchester and is working for Sears & Roebuck.

John Donovan and wife Joan were down from Rochester, N.Y. for Alumni Weekend and John promises me some notes on classmates in upper state New York in the future.

Nyal McA'Nulty and wife Mary are the happy parents of their fourth, a daughter, Sheila, who received a big welcome from her three brothers.

Al Perreault came up from Connecticut for some Alumni weekend activities, introducing his younger brother, a new Alumnus, at the luncheon.

Anthony Sheehan is an F-100 Super Sabre Pilot with the 352nd "Yellow Jackets" Tactical Fighter Squadron at Phan Rang AB, Vietnam, that has received the Air Force Flying Safety Award. Your committee is working now preparing for your fifteenth anniversary weekend. We will keep you advised as to details as soon as they become concrete, but remember — only You can make it a success! Plan now to come back for your fifteenth.

A great time was had by all at our annual spring dance. Fr. Joe Greer was the big winner of the evening, walking off with Boston College chair as the first door prize. Does this qualify you for a pastorate now, Father? Among others at the dance were our most faithful attendee at Laetare Sunday, Joe Tower, and his Norwood neighbor, Bill Kenny. Joe is comptroller of Metropolitan Coal and Oil, and Bill is teaching in the Norwood School system. Speaking of Norwood, we see that Representative Dave Ahearn is capably representing his Norwood constituents in the State Legislature.

Heard through the grapevine: Bob Sullivan is teaching Math at Belmont High, Teddy O'Rourke is with John Hancock, living in West Roxbury. Congratulations, Teddy, on the birth of Sheila, this makes three, doesn't it? George Murphy is Data Processing Manager with Knapp Shoe in Brockton. George is finally the father of a daughter. The recent set of mixed twins makes five for George and Gloria. Don Putnam is with Marr Scaffolding in South Boston and Ken Cowan was recently appointed as treasurer of a billion dollar organization, Keystone Custodian Funds, Inc. Jack Scanlon is living in Brockton and is June was the month for the Friendly Friars to increase their membership. Fr. Bob O'Brien was ordained a Jesuit priest and Fr. Gene McCarthy was ordained a priest in the order of the Oblates of Mary the Immaculate. Father Gene came to Boston from Washington to say his first mass and was able to attend his 10th reunion at which several of our classmates were present. Father Gene is scheduled to go to the Philippines in the fall where he will open a law school.

Jim and Peg Kelly came the farthest distance to the law school reunion, travelling from the Washington, D.C. area where Jim is a partner of Bergson & Borkland. In August Jim and Peg brought their six children up to Boston for the wedding of Jim's sister.

Some of the other classmates present with their wives were Fred Cox and Bob Welts from New Hampshire, Tom Salmon from Vermont, Tom Manning from the western part of the state, Massachusetts, Jack McCarthy, Joe McDonnell and Bert Good.

Jim O'Halloran has been named a partner in the national accounting firm of Arthur Andersen. Jim is located in the Boston office.

Tom Mullin has left Raytheon to form his own firm, the Stanley A. Harris Co. in Needham. Tom is Vice President and General Manager.

Ed Stegman is the proud father of another baby girl, his second.

Paul Sally has received an award from the University of Chicago for being named one of the outstanding teachers in the University.

Paul Leary has been named manager of the group department at the Travelers Insurance Companies Akron, Ohio office. Nick Schaus has been appointed secretary, mortgage and real estate department of Connecticut General Life Insurance Company. Simon Smith has received a Master of Philosophy from Harvard University. Ed Smith has been named systems manager for the Boston branch sales office of Honeywell's electronic data processing division. Manuel Mello has returned from Oregon and is now

Executive Director of the Massachusetts Retarded Children's Association and is making his home at 19 Princeton Street, Danvers, Mass., with his wife Patricia and their four children.

John MacDonald has left Monsanto Chemical Co. for the academic ranks, and is assistant professor of chemistry at Fairfield University. Tom Tully has formed his own law firm in Bridgeport, Conn., specializing in patent and trademark work. Tom received his law degree from Georgetown several years ago. Kevin O'Leary has received a National Science Foundation grant and is working on his Ph.D. at Case Institute, Cleveland. He received his MS from Western Reserve, is married with five children. After service with the Marine Corps, Dave Sheehan decided that Southern California was the place for him. He did grad work at So. Cal. in chemistry, is now working on his MBA at UCLA, and is an officer of the area group of the American Chemical Society. He is married, recently had a son, and is living in Canoga Park. Walter Sectore is living in Hingham, and is assistant principal of Hull High School, after having served as head of the School's science department. He went to Hull after teaching in Cohasset. John Tierman is living in Brecksville, Ohio, where he is a patent attorney with the Ferro Corp., Cleveland. John received his LL.B. from Suffolk, and previously was associated with Universal Match Corp., and later Converse Rubber Co. Dan Hurley is living in Pittsburgh and is doing research with a subsidiary of Gulf Oil Corp. He was awarded his Ph.D. from UConn, is married, and prior to joining Gulf, was working with Dupont at the Richmond, Va. plant. Many thanks to Owen Meegan for supplying most of the above information. Owen is a patent attorney with Sylvania, and living in Stoneham.

An article in "San Francisco", the west coast counterpart of "Boston" magazine, disclosed the whereabouts of another member of the Class of 1955, Luman Drake. He is living in Brisbane, and has not lost his touch for producing good and interesting copy. Congratulations to Class President Dick Drew, who was awarded his CLU certificate recently.

Major Charles J. Costell, post finance officer, was awarded the Bronze Star Medal for meritorious service while in the Republic of Vietnam. The presentation was made at a ceremony held in Post Headquarters. In addition to the Bronze Star Medal, Charlie, while serving in Vietnam was awarded the Soldier's Medal by the U.S. Army and the Vietnam Gallantry Cross with Gold Star by the Republic of Vietnam. Both medals were given as a result of the Major's heroic action when the aircraft in which he was flying crashed and caught on fire. He reacted quickly and pushed other passengers, mostly Vietnamese civilians and military out of the burning plane preventing additional injury and loss of life.

David Lyons was promoted to Army major July 18 in Vietnam, where he was serving

It was wonderful to see and chat with so many classmates at the quickly called reunion for Bambi Blais Dannemiller. Back from the Philippines and stationed in Mississippi, Bambi and Joe had come East for a visit. I have a feeling they set a record. They designed and furnished their new home in the South while still living 10,000 miles away. Bambi "found" Jackie Dursin Gannon for us. She is living in Teaneck, N.J., and has five children. Jim teaches school, and does some singing on the weekend with musical comedy teams.

Our sympathy is with Sally Walsh Logan on the death of her mother last November and to Mary Rose McCarthy on the very sudden death of her father recently. Sally had welcomed her fourth child, a boy, into her home a few short days before her mother's death.

Pat Schaefer Romelfanger timed it perfectly. Her birth announcement arrived as I prepared to type this column. Congratulations, Pat and Bob, and welcome Eric Joseph. His arrival makes the Romelfanger children a trio.

Walt Bankowski (LCDR, USN) reports that he was serving aboard the USS Forrestal when the explosion that sunk the ship took place. He said that his aircraft was launched just minutes before the flight deck was destroyed. He is serving with Fighter Squadron 74, and when not on sea duty, he resides at Virginia Beach with his wife, three boys and two girls.

1956 first ascended the Heights to state our thirst for knowledge and explore the kernels of truth. Though, as with wine, the passing of time has a mellowing effect, the thought of being unmellowed and starting anew passed fleetingly and futilely through the mind from time to time, leading only to the inexorable time-honored conclusion that though the days pass slowly the years go by exceedingly fast. The experience of fifteen years ago cannot be relived; more tragic still is the dimming of its memory. Alas, 'tis the fate we share with all mankind, select group that we are to the contrary notwithstanding.

Undaunted by the mere passage of time, we can still blaze new trails of experience, perhaps as rich and possibly as rewarding as the one we all shared together seemingly so long ago. Witness the ever-ebullient Dr. Gene McCarthy, who, in his persistent search for outlets for his resources of energy and talent, has, in his limited spare time, opened a vacation resort for "Smugglers," appropriately named "Smugglers Cove Motel" in East Boothbay, Maine. I am sure the good and enterprising Doctor and his lovely wife would welcome any of you would-be smugglers for a respite from the work-a-day world and afford you and your families a wonderful experience at his Down East vacation retreat. In further support of this proposition, we can cite the case of Gene's debating partner, Brian Concannon, Esq., who has recently opened a law office in Marshfield, Massachusetts, the firm name being Malone and Concannon, where in addition to other duties Brian serves as Chairman of the Permanent School Building Committee for the Town. His success in this latter undertaking was attested to recently when the Town Meeting approved $2.7 million dollars for new school construction by an almost unanimous vote. As reported in a South Shore newspaper, the vote came (and I quote) "following a masterly presentation of the (school-budget) problem by Attorney Brian Concannon, the voters with only a little discussion voted in favor of the $2.7 million dollar addition 299-48."

A recent letter from Bob Halloran, who lives in New Jersey, advised that Dave Reagan is with the Uni-Royal Co., serving as advertising manager for one of their divisions. Dave and his family reside in Westfield, New Jersey. Bob also brings us up to date on Willard Jackson, who lives on Long Island with his wife and five children and is employed by Lever Bros. in their Home Office in New York City. Bob himself lives out on the Jersey Shore. He was recently named Vice President of the Lizotte Agency of the Massachusetts Mutual Insurance Company, which is the largest agency — distributor for that Company. Bob was also named a member of the 1967 Million Dollar Round Table in the insurance industry, which speaks clearly as to his success in his undertaking.

Jim King, who had been a trial attorney with the National Labor Relations Board in Texas, has recently become associated with the law firm of Bethel and Pearce in Fort Smith, Arkansas. To those of us whose Western frontiers extend to the Albany exit of the Massachusetts Pike, news of Jim's Fort Smith association was greeted with certain misgivings and fear associated with not knowing. Happily, we are advised, following timorous inquiry, that the "Fort" was secured some time ago and fear of Indian uprisings has long since dissipated.

Time has failed, as yet, to halt the re productive efforts of 56ers. Recent additions have been recorded by the Tom Lawtons (now five children), the John Harneys (now two girls), and the John Bradys (now a girl and a boy). Certainly there have been more but the Stork News Dispatch of same has not reached this scrivener, which only points up the need once again for some assistance from you folks out in the many hinterlands to which this journal finds itself in way.

Jim Dougherty Jr. has arrived for duty at Naha AB, Okinawa. Jim previously served at Barksdale AFB, La. John Duffy, M.D. has been named chief consulting psychiatrist for the Minnesota Residential Treatment Center, Circle Pines. Rev. David Gill, S.J., was ordained in the Society of Jesus on Saturday, July 29 in Frankfurt-on-Main, West Germany. Also ordained into the Society of Jesus was Rev. John E. Surette, S.J. at St. Ignatius Church in Newton. Dr. John Schrogie has just completed two years specialty training in clinical Pharmacology at John Hopkins Hospital and will join the U.S. Food and Drug Administration in Washington.

Army Major Phil Schmanska was assigned to the U.S. Military Assistance Command in Vietnam. John Poirier is doing a two-year tour of duty for the Air Force in Bangkok, Thailand. Jack is married to the former Mary Jeanne Norton and has four children, John T., Jr., Denise Mary, Mark Gerard and Matthew Brendan. Jack and his family are also over in Bangkok with him.

Guy Rizza has been named marketing specialist—service stations of Humble Oil & Refining Company's New Jersey marketing area.

Ralph F. McClearney, has taken a leave of absence from Lexington High School where he has taught Latin and Greek to spend an academic year at Tufts University in Naples completing his class work for his doctorate in Latin and Greek. Ralph is taking his family with him; wife, Patricia EC '60 and three children.

With the summer months, vacation and so forth, the school of nursing gals do not have much in news. We do have a couple of announcements.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert N. Verville (Mary Fay Stiles) announce the birth of their fifth child, a daughter on April 13. They have called their third daughter Michele Ann.

Early in May, Sue (Lareau) McFaul gave birth to her first child, a big nine pound plus buster, called Stephen Andrew. Anne (Hall) O'Brien has a sunken swimming pool in the backyard of her Lancaster, Mass. home. She has spent the summer basking in the sun and baby-sitting for the neighborhood gang.

Very best wishes to Clare Cunningham and Patrick Mullen, Jr. on their forthcoming marriage, which is planned for October.

Future alumnae include the newest daughter of Mary Byrne Collins and Tom, and another little girl also for Carolyn Kenney Foley and Dan who are living in West Roxbury.

Agnes Sullivan has received an advanced degree from Rhode Island College.

Though your correspondents would undoubtedly be receptive to some subsidy or other which would allow us to travel nationally or internationally for purposes of gleanings information on your noteworthy activities, the likelihood of any such grant-in-aid being exceedingly improbable, we can only importune you to communicate with your correspondents by radio, TV, telephone, mail or however to keep us apprised of goings-on.
